GETTYSBURG.

The Gettysburg Re-union—Pittsburghers Over the Field—Only one Confederate in the Camp.

[Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

GETTYSBURG, August 26, 1869.

At nine o'clock this morning a very large number of the officers in attendance set out to survey the more important points of the battle field. Much more interest was manifested in this day's proceedings than in any other, as several knotty historical uncertainties, as to the distribution of the Union and Confederate forces in the vicinity of Round Top, had to be determined. We noticed among the stake-drivers in the excursion the following well known Allegheny county citizens, who played no inferior role in the second and third days' fighting on this most important of all the battle fields of the war: Gen F. H. Collier, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, Gen. Roy Stone, Col. Jno. A. Danks, Maj. Samuel Harper, Maj. Samuel Kilgore, Maj. Albert Harper and Maj. Wm. Dalgleish. Our brave boys can rest assured that their places from the beginning to the close of the battle were carefully marked, and will enter into the history of the place. Most of the Pittsburghers are getting ready to return home this evening. It may be remarked here as a matter of some moment that the re-union has not been the failure many predicted it would be, but, to the contrary, a substantial success. True, the greater figures in the struggle failed to put in an appearance, but they are satisfied with their own records, and perhaps felt that a survey of the field would not materially enhance the value of their military reputations for sagacity and prudence. The commanding officers who are here have entered with spirit into the business, and labored zealously to discharge the duty which brought them together in helping make history complete.

But one of the Confederates, Adjutant General Walter Harrison, Richmond, Virginia, of Pickett's Division, put in an appearance. His thorough knowledge of the field and of the disposition of both the Union and Confederate forces made his presence very desirable. He is the author of a new book now in press which it is thought will throw much new light on the battle of Gettysburg.

To-morrow work will be concluded, and whosoever hereafter visits the historic grounds of Gettysburg will have little trouble in forming a correct idea of how, where and when the main fighting took place. Stakes about one foot high, with clear and legible records mark the position of the various Divisions, Corps, and Regiments, while the very spots where the most memorable events took place are appropriately designated. It is proposed to supplant these temporary evidences with stone posts that will remain forever as guides to patriotic pilgrims who journey hither to pay tribute to the thousands who fell in the great struggle of the war.

The reunion on the field of so many Federal officers drew forth many unwritten anecdotes and scraps of history connected with the war, which will doubtless find their way into print, as a number of experienced phonographers were in constant attendance on the parties and faithfully took notes of all that was said and done. Old Burns, the solitary hero of Gettysburg town itself, the only man who quitted his home to participate in the fight was out on the field to day. He took occasion to thank Major Dalgleish, of our city, for his kindness in receiving him into the ranks and assigning him a position in the fight. He seems quite proud of his record, and well he may be, for he showed spirit and patriotism when both articles seemed strangers to the town in which he breathed.

Viewing the occasion as one of historic importance, it has been a success, and no matter how much cold water may be thrown upon it by those too willing to impugn their neighbors with false motives, but a few years will suffice to show how wise was the movement. Would that every similar conspicuos battle field of the rebellion could be visited in like manner, and history made more complete. It is proposed to buy Round Top and add it to the grounds already purchased by the Gettysburg Battle-field Memorial Association. State aid will be asked for this project and no doubt will be granted, as the ground aside from its historic association, is worthless, and will cost but little for the purchase. To-night there has been a general comparison of notes and the feeling is that the survey has been well and faithfully performed. A new map of the field based on the information now so readily attainable, will at once be published, while a competent writer has promised a minute history of the battle of Gettysburg. much of the data for which he has obtained on the present occasion from the lips of those who so prominently figured in the contest which proved the death-blow to the rebellion.

HARVARD VS. OXFORD.

The International Boat Race To-day.

(By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.)

NEW YORK, August 26.—A Tribune correspondent says: I saw the Harvard crew last night for the first time, after a fortnight's absence, and was delighted to observe a marked improvement in their style and pace. Both crews made, to-day, their last row over the whole course which they will take before the race. A difference of thirty seconds is reported in favor of the Oxfords, but it is not trustworthy, the Oxfords having taken a back start in order to get up a good headway. Both crews exhibit great power. The style of the Oxfords is unquestionably the better of the two. Their crew is heavier and their pace extraordinary. The Harvard, however, is in superb condition and perfectly confident. The rowing of the Americans is not far from faultless, their boat goes along well and their prospects are decidedly promising. It is not at all unlikely that the race will be a very close one. The Harvard men have determined to use the new boat built for them by Elliott, which carries them better and makes better speed than any other they have ever tried. No trouble of any kind is feared, but every precaution has been taken against foul play, and a strong guard is kept constantly over the boats. The Harvard crew have spent the last two nights at the Sturgiss House. They wish me to contradict the English statement that they have adopted the English style; all the crew say they pull the same stroke as last year, but for all that they show an immense change for the better. There seems to have been a little trouble about the referee, and the Oxford wanted a change, but the Harvard, I am glad to say, very properly sticks to Thomas Hughes. In consequence of this, Mr. Chitty refuses to act as umpire, he not being willing to serve under Hughes, and the probability is that there will be no umpire at all, but Hughes will be selected as sole referee. This is the best arrangement by all odds that could be made. Everything has been done to secure a clear course and a fair race, and I apprehend no interference by outsiders, and no obstruction of the river by steamboats and barges, as has often been the case heretofore. Neither crew has done much work to-day, and to-morrow they will do none at all. The headquarters of the Harvard men has been crowded with visitors, among whom, yesterday, were Charles Reade, Minister Motley, Benjamin Moran, Secretary of the American Legation, T. H. Dudley, United States Consul at Liverpool, and others, all of whom will return for the race.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—The Post, in comments on the coming boat race, expects the Oxford crew to win, but considers their failure to do so will be no disgrace. The Harvards will have the fairest of fair play, and where physique and endurance are so equally matched the best style must win. The excitement in regard to the race continues to grow and the merits of the crews form the general topic of conversation.

The arrangements to preserve order and keep the course clear are regarded with great satisfaction. The general feeling among sporting reporters is that the race will be most spirited and well contested. There is still a little betting of odds at two to one on the Oxfords.

NEW YORK, August 26.—At the sale of pools to-night on the international boat race the betting was about two to one on the Oxford. One bet was made of one thousand dollars to five hundred on the Oxford.

LONDON, August 26.—The Harvard and Oxford crews have only practiced starts to-day. The Elliot boat, in which the Harvards have decided to row the match to-morrow, is 44 feet long, 21 inches wide at the widest part, and 8 inches deep: depth of hull, 11½ inches, depth forward 7 inches, and depth aft 6¼ inches. She was built on a draft and model brought from New York, and is of purely American construction, even her frame work having been brought over with the crew. The oars to be used were made by Agling.

The following are the weights of both crews as they stand to-day: Harvards—Faye, (bow) 155 lbs, Lyman 155 lbs, Simmons 171 lbs, Loring, (stroke) 154 lbs, Burnham, (coxswain) 112 lbs. Oxfords—Derbyshere, (stroke) 159 lbs, Trane 189½ lbs, Yarborough 169½ lbs, Willan (bow) 164 lbs, Hall (coxswain) 101 lbs.

Galeston, Captain of the London Rowing Club, will be the umpire of the Harvards, and Chitty will probably act in that capacity for the Oxfords. Mr. Blakie has been chosen starter and Sir A. Paul will probably be agreed upon as judge. The Oxford men are confident of winning, but the Americans are hopeful. Simmonds is again slightly indisposed to day.

Mr. Blakie has written a letter to the Times for publication on Saturday, protesting against the comments of the English press in regard to the Harvard's style of rowing and against the assertions respecting an alteration in that style. He declares that their style now differs in no respect from that which they always practiced at home.

The Pall Mall Gazette of this afternoon says if the Harvards are beaten it will be by the best crew ever seen on the Thames, one which would make short work of the fastest Henley crew. There need be no fear but that the race will be rowed entirely on its own merits.

SAN FRANCISCO.

Damage to Central Pacific Railroad—A Huge Boulder—Indian Fight.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 26.—The damage to the Pacific Railroad by fire is greater than at first supposed. Trains will probably not pass the burnt district before Saturday. The fire was undoubtedly the work of an incendiary. A train was also delayed last night this side of Cisco by a boulder weighing at least ten tons, which rolled from the side of the mountain and lodged on the track. It was removed by blasting.

The Retrenchment Committee are stopping at Truckee.

Northern advices report a fight between the Blackfeet and Kooling Indians on the upper Columbia, in which twelve of the latter were killed, and a large number wounded; also five miners en route from Montana to Kooling, were killed by the Blackfeet Indians.

GREAT BRITAIN.

LONDON, August 26.—The weather throughout England is fair and favorable for the crops.

The Times, referring to the condition of the British Colonies, says Canada is in all respects independent and is fitted to become so. She has institutions of a great power and it is a fair subject of inquiry whether she might not assume her appropriate position.

The tea ship Agamenon, from Hankow, June 9th, has arrived with the first cargo of the season. A submarine telegraph from Ragoon via Singapore, Java and China is projected.

The Star, in an article on the rejection of the American treaty by China, shows that the treaty secured substantial advantages for Chinese, while America disclaimed any interference with their internal administration. It cannot be supposed the Pekin Government is dissatisfied with the Convention, but that that weak Government should yield to the pressure of Minister Burlingame's enemies, who represent that the Convention is at variance with traditions, is not surprising. It now remains to be seen whether Mr. Burlingame or Mr. Brown reflects the mind and purpose of President Grant.

The Standard thinks that the Chinese in refusing to endorse the agreement show they are not animated by the principles which Mr. Burlingame declares they possessed, and hopes it will lead him to abandon the functions which secure neither honor for himself nor benefit for the world at large.

SPAIN.

MADRID, August 26.—General Prim has gone to Vichy. Admiral Topete acts in his absence. Six thousand additional troops will be sent to Cuba within two weeks. Pols and his Secretary, recently captured at the head of a Carlist band, have been sentenced to death. Unsuccessful efforts are being made by the wife and friends of Pols for clemency. Several other Carlist prisoners were also condemned to death. An official circular has been issued thanking the volunteers and others for efforts toward the restoration of peace.

MADRID, August 26.—The Government, yielding to the pressure of solicitations from parties, has commuted the death sentences of several Carlist clergymen, and there will probably be no more executions.

Answers received from the Bishops in regard to the recent decree of the Regent are unsatisfactory and defiant. No further steps will be taken against them until Gen. Prim returns.

PARIS, August 26.—The Empress and Prince Imperial have arrived at Toulon.

PARIS, August 26.—The amount of specie in the Bank of France has increased 5,000,000 francs during the week.

MAUCH CHUNK, PA., August 26.—The Mauch Chunk Gazette publishes an account of the meeting of miners in Hazelton to-day, representing every colliery in the Lehigh region. The object was to rearrange the percentage and modify existing rules relative to allowance of coal to a car. The tone of the speakers was very moderate and it is considered certain that the meeting will decide to allow a full ton at whatever it may measure.

More reports of seizures by Internal Revenue officers were received to-day by Commissioner Delano than in any one day during the present administration.

NEW YORK CITY.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

NEW YORK, August 26, 1869.

The Erie Railroad Company has made an arrangement with the Lake Shore Company, by which the Erie is to lay a third rail from New York to Buffalo, to make it narrow gauge in one year. Five million of Erie narrow gauge bonds are to be issued, which are to be a lien on the earnings of the narrow gauge. The Erie is to fix the rates on western bound freight and the Lake Shore on eastern bound freight. The Erie, Atlantic and Great Western and Lake Shore have made an arrangement whereby passengers to Chicago may go over the Atlantic and Great Western to Cleveland or via. Buffalo. The through earnings are to be equitably divided between the three companies. The foregoing will explain the rise and activity in Erie to-day.

The different trunk lines of railroads to the west have hardly got their difficulties patched up on the freight question, before another war breaks out on passenger fares. The rate for first class passage to Buffalo was reduced to $6.50 to-day.

Another Atlantic cable, to unite the United States with Prussia, is projected. The terms of concession from the Prussian Government are published. It is to be begun by September, and must be finished within two years.

At the Woman's Rights Convention yesterday, a sympathetic letter from John G. Whitter was read. A letter from Mrs. Stowe recommends the gospel theory that man is the head of woman, and that he will eventually welcome woman to equality with himself in cases of governments and legislation. Theodore Tilton, in remarks favorable to the cause, alluded to Mrs. Stowe (who he said wished she could keep a secret which occasioned the defence of Lady Byron) and Mrs. Stanton as the noblest women that ever trod the earth.

The Company will start work on Monday. The same company will sell eighty thousand tons of coal at auction on the 1st of September.

There is as yet no increase in the rates of tolls upon Western freights.

The National Bank Note Company to-day delivered the full amount of fractional currency ordered by the Government, and will be able to continue to forward full amounts daily hereafter.

The Fenian Congress reassembled to-day. President Savage submitted his report, in which he claims that the spirit of insurrection is still strong in Ireland, that the organization is in full working order and the drilling of rank and file has gone on quietly but constantly, and the number of sworn members there was never greater than now. He hoped dissension in this country was about ended. Important matters are said to be under consideration, and the Congress is still in session this evening.

Return of Mayor Rice—Great Will Case—Wife Murdered—Convention of Italians.

CHICAGO, August 26.—Hon. J. B. Rice, Mayor of Chicago, who has been absent in Europe for the past three months, reached here this morning.

The great will case of William C. Owen et al. versus Elizabeth Flynn et al., involving about $200,000, is now on trial in the Morgan county, Illinois, Circuit Court, at Jacksonville.

J. R. Nichols, of the firm of Nichols & Munn, this city, has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of the Union Pacific Railroad.

Stephen Murphy, a carpenter, residing in La Salle, Illinois, murdered his wife last night by beating her to death with a boot. Murphy's daughter was present and witnessed the crime, without being able to prevent it.

The engine house and shops of Kirkland's coal mines, at Danville, Illinois, were burned last night. The loss is a heavy one.

The Italians of the United States met in Convention at three o'clock this afternoon. The Convention is an adjourned session of one held in Philadelphia in July of last year. Among the delegates present are Cavalier Secchi De Casala, editor of the Eco d'Italia, New York; L. Born, Boston; A. Lagomansine, Philadelphia; A. B. Longinotte, Louisville, A. Carrotte, St. Louis; Brichette, Cincinnati, and A. L. Ghio, Chicago. New Orleans, Memphis and San Francisco will be represented by proxy. On Sunday a grand banquet will be given to the delegates.

CINCINNATI.

Base Ball—Red Stockings vs Haymakers.—Tie Game—Railroad Accident—Alledged Murderers in Custody.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

CINCINNATI, August 26.—The game between the Red Stockings and the Haymakers closed at the fifth inning. Score, seventeen to seventeen. At this time the Haymakers found fault with the umpire about his decision, that one of the Haymakers failed to catch a fly. John Morrissey's Secretary called to the Haymakers to stake bats, and the game closed. There was immense excitement, a great mass of people attending from all parts of the country.

John Morrissey is not in the city. Jas. McKeon, President of the Haymakers, was mistaken for him at the base ball grounds.

The Cincinnatis went to bat first at 3:20. The following is the score for the five innings played:

Cincinnatis	0	10	2	1	4	—17
Unions	5	8	0	0	4	—17

McVey, of the Red Stockings, at the bat first on the sixth inning, struck foul, which bounded and was picked up by Craver, catcher of the Haymakers. The umpire, W. R. Brockway, of the Buckeye club, decided "not out," McKeon, President of the Unions, clamorously objecting to the decision. Fisher, pitcher, put bats in bag. The crowd grew excited and started for the ropes; police could not keep it back. It gathered round the umpire, who stood on a chair and said: "I decide this game in favor of the Cincinnatis, because the Unions of Lansingburg refuse to continue it." Continued loud cheering. McVey, of the Red Stockings, through all the excitement remained coolly at his post with bat in hand, ready to continue the game. The Cincinnatis get all the gate money, which was $2,500. Great numbers came on all the railroads at half fare. The hotels were full and the excitement on the street great, but there was no disgraceful conduct on the grounds or on the street.

The Buckeye Club has declined to play the game appointed with the Haymakers to-morrow. The Cincinnatis will hold a meeting to-morrow night to decide as to what share, if any, of the gate money shall go to the Haymakers. Several of the Haymakers censure their President severely for ordering them to discontinue the game. They are by no means unanimous in dissatisfaction. The President of the Unions, in the first part of the game, objected to the ruling of the umpire, but not being sustained by members did not press his objection.

The Haymakers will remain here to-morrow. There is a great crowd about the Gibson House, where the Haymakers stay. Every disposition to be fair towards them is manifested; no harsh and violent language has been used anywhere in the talk over the matter. As the Haymakers left the grounds their President swore vehemently and they were followed by about fifty boot blacks who kept up groaning until the police drove them back.

A passenger train on the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton Railroad ran into a train on a switch, this morning, near the Erighton House. The cars were thrown off the track and broken, but no one was hurt, and the damage was slight.

Homans & Co., private bankers, suspended to-day. Liabilities about $125,000; assets unknown, probably small.

Philip Warham, supposed murderer of David Rinby, at the C. H. & D. Depot, last night, and two others, said to be implicated, whose names are Richard P. Hintz and Newton Estabrook, were brought here from Dayton to day and are in jail. An excited crowd awaited them at the depot and the officers with difficulty saved the prisoners from being lynched.

Weather cloudy; thermometer at noon 83 deg.

FROM THE PACIFIC.

Reception of Mr. Seward at Victoria—Eclipse Observations in Alaska.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

SAN FRANCISCO, August 26.—Wm. H. Seward and party arrived at Victoria yesterday from Alaska. All are well. The municipal authorities of Victoria to-day entertained Mr. Seward with a public dinner, Mr. Ford, Chief Justice of the Colony, presiding.

General Musgrave has reached Victoria and assumed the government of British Columbia.

The California Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church met at Napa City to day, Bishop Kingsley President. The attendance was large.

Heavy rain storms recently prevailed in Oregon, and it is feared the wheat crop is seriously damaged.

The Atlas special from Victoria says the eclipse expedition of the U. S. Coast Survey left Sitka July 15th, in an open boat, for Chilkah River. On account of heavy weather it was eleven days reaching a proper position on the river, in latitude fifty-nine twenty-three, longitude one thirty-five fifty eight, only twenty miles from the central path of totality. It was impracticable to carry instruments and provisions over the Iron Mountain range and the determination of latitude, longitude and magnetic variations were made before. The date of the eclipse, 7th of August, was the cloudiest experienced, but breaks in the clouds enabled the different phases to be watched and the beginning of totality was accurately noted. Instantly after obscuration rose colored flames were visible with the unassisted eye and their extent, position and elevation approximately measured on the Southeast and South-west points of the sun's limit. The whole picture was magnificent. The end of the eclipse was not seen. The phenomena of coming darkness and growing light were very marked along the course of the valley.

Governor Seward and party visited Prof. Davidson's camp and watched the phases of the eclipse, and saw all the phenomena of rose colored flames and corona. The party on the steamer Active, at the mouth of the river, had the best view of totality. The clouds broke and large clear spaces enabled them to see the flames and corona, also the planet Mercury and stars of the fourth magnitude.

At Sitka the eclipse was not quite total and was watched through the broken clouds. At Fort Wrangle the weather was densely cloudy, but at Fort Tongass favorable and the officers observed the time of beginning and ending. The Indians were fearfully alarmed and hid in their houses or took to the bushes.

The land is mostly rolling prairie in a body, lying from four to twelve miles from the line of the road northwest of Junction City. The average price paid was about three dollars and seventy five cents per acre. Members of the colony have already arrived and commenced the improvement of land. The colony is composed of a good class of emigrants and each member is required to have sufficient means to stock his farm. Most of them will reach Kansas during the coming fall and spring.

ALTOONA is to have a horse race.

YORK COUNTY is suffering dreadfully from drought.

A GERMAN named Shuey, was sun struck in Uniontown on Saturday, but is now recovering.

AN ORPHAN white girl, adopted into a most respectable family in Perrysville, Juniata county, was attacked, while out berrying, by a negro named Josiah Miller, who committed a terrible outrage upon her. He is now in prison awaiting punishment.

A NUMBER of our townsmen, regardless of danger, have declared war upon the rattlesnakes, and the "old den" two miles south of town has been waked up several times within the last week. The fun for the boys, we have no doubt, has been intense, and the slaughter of the innocents great.

MR. CHAS. DIEBOLD, of Lebanon, has obtained a patent for what promises to be a useful and profitable invention for utilizing cinder from furnaces. He has been operating with the cinder from Meily's furnace, and has turned out fine blocks for pavements, which he casts in squares of about 17 inches, 3 inches in thickness. —Lebanon Courier.

A LITTLE son of Mr. Eli Bear, of Middlesex Township, was instantly killed by being caught in the shafting connecting a thresher with a horse-power. Mr. B. was engaged in threshing, when the little fellow in attempting to step across the shafting was caught by the knuckle which connects that of the horse-power with that of the threshing machine, and whirled around with frightful rapidity, striking his head on the ground and dashing out his brains.—Mechanicsburg Democrat.

ADOLPH GORE, son of O. Gore, Esq., of Sheshequin, started to go into the field for his cows the other evening. Discovering a dog a short distance in front of him, he thought he would creep along by the fence until he came near enough to frighten him; but as he was crawling cautiously along upon his hands and feet, a large grey eagle, supposing him to be some quadruped, pounced upon him and flew away with the back of his shirt. The lad was badly scared, but received no injury save a slight scratch on the back.—Bradford Reporter.

JASPER Q. ELY, of Luzerne county, is engaged on his farm, a few miles from Eckley, in the propagation of the most esculent of fish—our American brook trout. He has a living stream of spring water of about six inches in diameter, and fall sufficient in a hundred feet for the erection of three commodious dams. He has at present fifteen hundred trout, and thinks he will be able to hatch between thirty and forty thousand small ones. He says the curdled milk of one cow for a year fed to trout will increase their weight five hundred pounds.

CARL, son of Chas. McDougal, now in the U. S. military service, was drowned in the Chemung river on Wednesday week. He, with other boys, was in swimming in Westbrook's dam, in Bradford county, and venturing out too far, stepped into a deep hole. Eddie McDonald made heroic efforts to save the drowning boy; twice he got him above water, and struggled with him towards shore, but, both being naked, he found it impossible to save him. The deceased was a lad of twelve years—a favorite in the village.—Waverly Advocate.

ON Thursday a party under the guidance of one of our young friends, a very king of rattlesnake hunters, and thoroughly familiar with the haunts and habits of these musical but terribly venomous reptiles, assailed the den, and after a fierce conflict of three hours duration, counted as their trophies twenty-seven bloody and mangled corpses, "cold and stiff and still," averaging in length about five feet, and ranging on the same from five to seven feet. The conclusion of several of them was graced with as high as fourteen rattles, exclusive of the "button."—Somerset Whig.

ON Thursday last, in the woolen factory of Stewart & Tate, "Sunny Side," near Saltsburg, Westmoreland county, Mr. Peter Swartz was killed instantly. The following are the particulars: Mr. S. in response to the 6 A. M. signal to go to work, repaired to his post and before going to work in attempting to shorten one of the belts, threw it off at the wrong side of the pulley, which brought him in direct contact. It caught him around the legs (he said oh, my) and in an instant drew him up among three metal pullies, dashing his head with terrible violence against a beam which supports the second floor, mashing his head into almost innumerable particles, dispersing it in all directions. Mrs. Tate and two little girls were present to witness the melancholly accident. —Greensburg Herald.

A LITTLE child of Mr. A. A. Jacobs, of this place, aged about two years, has been in the habit, for some weeks past, of feeding a large black snake. The curiosity of the parents was first excited by seeing the little fellow repairing regularly to the cellar on receiving his piece of bread and butter, at certain intervals, and on examination it was discovered that his snakeship, immediately upon the approach of the child, glided from his place of concealment and came forward to share his repast, which was partaken of by both of them at the same time, and in the most social and friendly manner. All efforts to dispatch the snake have proved, so far, unavailing, and it is said that the child manifested the utmost grief at being excluded from his daily intercourse with his companion.—Huntingdon Journal.

THE citizens of Mercersburg were thrown into a great excitement, on Monday morning last, at the announcement that a son of Mr. John Hock, a resident of that town, aged about ten years, had been killed. It appears the lad had started in the morning, on horse back, with one end of the hitching strap fastened around his waist, for the purpose of bringing home the cattle, and when a short distance from town the cattle which the lad was driving coming in contact with another lot, commenced goring each other, when the boy, it is supposed, rode his horse among them for the purpose of separating them. At all events, the horse was gored by the cattle, which caused him to take fright and run off, throwing the boy and dragging, tramping and rolling over him several times, lacerating his body in a terrible manner. The horse was finally caught and the boy cut loose, but died in a few minutes afterwards.

SPRINGFIELD is about to build a large frame house, 75 feet by 150, to be called the colliseum, and to be used as a place for circuses, a political wigwam and a skating rink.

ON THE 12 h inst. a bridge near New Philadelphia, Tuscarawas county, gave way, precipitating a mass of debris together with a heavily laden wagon and a man, a woman and a little girl, fifteen feet down into the mud below. The man and woman escaped unhurt, as did the horses, but the little girl was severely injured, and almost strangled in the mud.

JUST before going to press we are informed by Dr. Smith that a terrible accident by shooting occurred last night at the house of Joel Hull in Huntingdon. A young man named John Taylor, while handling a piece, discharged it into his neck, the contents breaking the lower jaw, passing through the throat and roof of the mouth, and otherwise horribly mutilating him. When the doctor left, the wounded man was still living, but the probabilities of recovery were against him. Another warning against the careless use of fire arms.—Wellington Enterprise.

ON LAST Thursday morning, a boy named David Riffle, about twelve years of age, whose parents live near the brick kiln on the east side of the railroad, was seriously injured at the railroad depot, by the local freight, and has since died. The boy was standing near by, while the cars were being shifted, when one of the employees of the railroad requested him to couple the cars as they came together. This he attempted to do, and not being accustomed to the duty, was caught between the bumpers and literally disemboweled. He died the following night.—Wooster Republican.

AN old gentleman from Baltimore, on his way to Cincinnati lost two hundred dollars by a confidence game Thursday night about ten o'clock on the express train from Pittsburgh. As the train was approaching Crestline a man answering the description of the notorious John Harvey, came to the old gentleman and represented himself as a merchant of Cincinnati, who was anxious to get some goods out of the express car, and borrowed two hundred dollars from the old gentleman to pay charges on the goods, giving him what appeared to be a thousand dollar United States bond to hold as security for the money. The bond proved to be an advertiser's bill with a green back, and the confidence man had disappeared,—Canton Repository.

SOMETIME since the station house at Minerva was entered and supicion attached to a young man by the name of McNary, of this county, who was arrested, but no proof appearing against him he was discharged, a notice of which we made at the time. Sometime after this the station at Malvern was burglariously entered and suspicion attached to this same individual. He was arrested on Monday of last week, had his preliminary examination before a justice and was recognized, and failing to give security was ordered to jail. It being late at night, the constable concluded not to bring him up till next morning, and with an assistant retired to rest at the hotel. To make it doubly secure they had the prisoner undress and go to bed, after which one of them got into the same bed, the other occupying another bed and placing McNary's clothes under his head to prevent the possibility of escape. In the morning the constable awoke to find himself in possession of the clothing but minus the prisoner.—Carrollton Free Press, Aug. 11.

Philosophy of Bread Making.

Flour in bread has a delicious sweetness that nothing should destroy.

It has been said of Republics that they may rise to a certain height of national prosperity, and then must assuredly decline. This we deny with regard to Republics, but it is certainly true as to the staff of life.

There is a point at which the sweetness has departed, even before the sourness begins. The great art is to arrest the fermentation before it reaches this point.

I have had specimens sent me by neighbors, to show what excellent bread they could make, and found their ideas and mine differed greatly. Light and white it certainly was, but long before it was submitted to the sense of taste, the sense of smell told that it was far from sweet.

For the reason that is requires careful watching, I never have bread rising at night. Changes of temperature affect it, and must be carefully noted. Early in the morning, say six o'clock, make up your bread with lukewarm water or milk and good home-made or bakers' yeast—never brewers. Knead it well and set it in a rather warm place to rise. No sponging before hand—it is wholly unnecessary and only another opportunity given to become sour. In summer, before ten o'clock, it will be light enough to put in pans. Let it rise in them twenty minutes—not longer, for here the trouble generally lies; it is allowed to rise and rise till it cracks and runs over. Put it in the oven as soon as it begins to rise in the pans. The heat of the oven must be so regulated that the loaves will not be browned or crusted over during the first half hour. If they are, they cannot rise as they should. After the first half hour increase the heat enough to give them a beautiful light brown. Good sized loaves should be an hour in baking.—Janet in Hearth and Home.

The Era of "Vulgarity."

It is unhappily a common, but a true reflection, that money is the root of modern vulgarity. Vulgarity seems especially a product of a modern period. Its history owes its birth to the Stock Exchange, or, if you will, it was first generated in 'Change Alley. At all events, vulgarity has always had an existence in this country; it has wrought no visible effect upon literature up to at least the last fifty years. You will find any quantity of grossness, of indecency, of licentiousness of thought, and fiction, and treatment, but no vulgarity. Now, the modern stage is eminently vulgar. Our actors are vulgar, with very few exceptions; our humor is vulgar; our sentiment is vulgar; our music is vulgar. What can be more vulgar than the burlesque or the modern farce? Vulgarity is the great secret of the success of most of our low comedians. We do not deny them a certain kind of talent; but it is a vulgar talent. A coarser impersonation would frequently redeem the part that offends a delicate judgment by its obvious vulgarity. It is a sign, too, that the age is vulgar because it applauds and patronizes vulgarity. Consider for a moment the vulgarity of our music halls. The words of the most popular comic songs are vulgar. The music, when it is original, is always vulgar; and such is the effect of vulgarity that even the melody composed by Arne, by Bishop, by Russel, by Dibdin, or by Braham, is vulgarized by its application to modern sentiment. The vulgarity of our actresses is notorious. Can the modern stage boast of a single lady? Search the ranks of what the music hall bills call "the host of comic and sentimental talent," and the very names alone will tell you the vulgarity of the people. It is the familiarity that indicates the vulgarity. It is Joe, or Tom, or Harry (or 'Arry, when spoken) or Bill, or Lizzie, or Kate, or the more obvious Brummagem, or Ione, or Stella, or Carlotta, or Lennox, or Harcourt, or Lydia. We feel ourselves constrained to believe that money is the root of modern vulgarity. The rich city trader, panting for dignity, first purchases the daughter of a lord by paying off the debts of the father, and then spends some £10,000 for a seat in Parliament. Something of the trader will cling to his posterity; and the progress of descent is again illustrated by the curses of unequal matches. Wealth allied to vulgarity produces fine airs; and fine airs again generate vulgarity.—London Journal.

WE FIND the following in Sunday's St. Louis Democrat:

Sam. Woods was a steamboat clerk on the Missouri river and New Orleans boats before and after the war. He was a hard worker while he had work to do—dressed well, and could enjoy himself ashore about as well as any young man of the period. It began to be rumored that Sam's father, a Pennsylvanian, was wealthy, and wanted his rather wayward son to bid farewell to his steamboat companions and the small earnings of a freight clerk, and join him in his oil operations, which for some reason the jolly and vigorous young man seemed loth to do. But his father's pleading was at last successful, and he drew his wages, resigned, and took the cars for Pennsylvania. Sam. was so well and favorably known here that his decision was much regretted. We met a gentleman yesterday who gave us some information in relation to the subsequent history of Mr. Sam. Woods, which we sum up as follows: His father gave him four acres of oil lands. He bored it all over with indifferent success, until some men proposed to bore a certain depth, and make a powerful blast with a patent nitro-glycerine apparatus, Sam. to pay a hundred dollars for the work. Oil flowed abundantly, we don't recollect how many gallons per day, but after a while he paid his father $250,000, and is now the happy and very contented possessor of the princely sum of $300,000.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Philadelphia Press, visiting the "Old Wayne Homestead" in Chester county, Pennsylvania, writes: "The 'Old Wayne Homestead,' now belonging to a descendant of Gen. Wayne, bears every mark of the respect felt for it by its owner, Mr. William Wayne. During our late war he proved himself worthy of the name he bore, by gallantly buckling on his sword in the cause of truth and freedom. The room in which General Wayne entertained General Lafayette still remains furnished exactly in the same manner as when those brave men occupied it. To the left, upon entering the room, is seen the full size likeness of General Wayne, taken in the style peculiar to the 'old colonial' times, and above the sword and pistol of 'old Mad Anthony,' but in whose madness there was method. Around the room were several pictures whose peculiar character we could not decipher; no doubt in the early days of the Republic they were considered masterpieces of art, and are now held as they should be—as valuable heirlooms."

ENGLAND is trying to match the Cracow nun story. They have found a lunatic of 74 years, who has for the past 30, been farmed out to a keeper. The investigators found him chained to a chair by the wrists, His legs were also secured by manacles, and the chair was in turn chained to the wall. This position he occupied all day, even when partaking of his meals. Visiting his bedroom they found that at night he was subjected to similar cruelty. There were leg-irons at the foot of the bed, and it seemed that at night irons also encircled his legs and wrists.

[This English story can be matched at more than one American county poorhouse. An investigation made by the Ohio medical Society, two years since, into the conditions of the insane inmates of the county infirmaries, revealed scores of cases of abuse, as atrociously cruel as that narrated above.]

LACE.—The raw materials used in the manufacture of lace in France are spun specially for it. The price of the raw material amounts to from six to twenty per cent. of the value of the production. Pillow lace is made on a sort of frame, light and simple in construction, and is held on the knee of the lace maker. The total number of lace-makers in France is estimated at 200,000 women and girls. Their wages are on the average 1 franc 25 centimes per day; some who are particularly skilful and industrious earn 3 francs 50 centimes for ten hours' hard work. Lace-makers are mostly peasant women, who work in their own houses. Lace generally takes the name of the town in which it is produced. The annual production of lace in France is valued at 100,000,009 francs, and is sold to the United States, Great Britain, Brazil, Russia, India and other countries.

CONTINUES TO TREAT ALL
private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness and Impotency, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects, as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, consumption, aversion to society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally a prostrating the sexual system as to render marriage unsatisfactory, and therefore imprudent, are permanently cured. Persons afflicted with these or any other delicate, intricate or long standing constitutional complaint should give the Doctor a trial; he never fails.
A particular attention given to all Female complaints, Leucorrhœa or Whites, Failing, Inflammation or Ulceration of the Womb, Ovaritis, pruritis, Amenorrhœa, Menorrhagia, Dysmenorrhœa, and Sterility or Barrenness, are treated with the greatest success.
It is self-evident that a physician who confines himself exclusively to the study of a certain class of diseases and treats thousands of cases every year must acquire greater skill in that specialty than one in general practice.
The Doctor publishes a medical pamphlet of fifty pages that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at office or by mail for two stamps, in sealed envelopes. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.
The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlets at office free, or by mail for two stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Hours 9 A.M. to 8 P.M. Sundays 12 M. to 2 P. M. Office, No. 9 WYLIE STREET, (near Court House,) Pittsburgh, Pa

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August, 26 1869.

It is a fact worthy of special mention, that all of the leading markets have reacted right sharply within the past ten days, and while prices have declined materially, it is not at all probable that the bottom has yet been touched. Wheat is down 10@12 cents per bushel in Chicago, and as there is every appearance of heavy receipts, together with unfavorable news from Europe, we should not be surprised to see it down as much more. Private advices report quite a number of failures in Chicago within the past month or two, and it is expected that there will be many more within the next thirty or sixty days. We clip the following from the Chicago Republican, of Wednesday:

"The "longs" have evidently given up all hopes of keeping prices up and left the market to follow its natural tendency, a large number of settlements being made, generally at a good profit to the "short" seller. The "longs" were afraid to run prices up, rule thirteen forbidding them, and to this rule alone must be attributed the lack of a "corner" on wheat to day. Here is a specimen of the practical working of rule thirteen, which we invite all to look at. There is no question but that the market could have been "cornered," and further, there is not the least doubt but that the "shorts" would have suffered had not the rule been in force, instead of making a handsome profit, now that the market is left to itself. The receipts of wheat con inue on a liberal scale, and several boat loads of winter are on the way hither by canal, while the Alton Railroad is also loading a number of cars for this city Very soon now the new crop will begin to come forward, and it is not a difficult matter to surmise as to the future of prices in this market—at least, there is every indication that a lower range of values will prevail.

APPLES—In good supply and dull but unchanged, ranging from $1,00@3,00 per bbl.

BERRIES—Sales of fresh Blackberries, in good condition, at 90 cents per bucket. Huckelberries—sales at $1.50@$5.00 per bushel.

BUTTER—There is a fair demand for strictly prime with sales at 22@24, but common is dull and hard to sell.

BROOMS—Quoted as follows: No. 5 $6,50; No. 4 $6; No. 3 $5, No. 2, plain, $4.50, and market firm.

CHEESE—Is in good supply with sales at 14@17 cts., as to quality.

FEATHERS—Dull; quoted at 80@85 cents to the trade, and the usual advance for small lots in store.

FLOUR—The market is quiet with fair receipts, and supply fully up to the demand. Spring wheat has declined 50 cents per bbl in Chicago, but it is still a dollar too high for this market, and it is not likely that there will be much of it brought here unless it does drop to the extent above indicated, Winter wheat flours are selling at $7@7,50.

GROCERIES—The grocery market, compared with last week, has undergone but little change, and presents nothing new or important. There is a continued steady demand for Sugars, which is usually the case at this season of the year, and prices are firm and well sustained. Following are the ruling quotations:

CANDLES—Mould, 15½c; Star, 23½c.

BI CARB SODA—$6¾ per 100.

GRAIN—There is very little inquiry for wheat and as the mills are pretty well supplied, there is every appearance of lower prices. Oats dull, but not quatrbly lower, 45 to 47 on track, and 50@52 for small lots in store; sale 1 car, to a consumer, at 48. Rye cannot fairly be quoted above $1,15, though some parties are asking $1,20. Corn is dull and unchanged, $1@1,05. Barley is quoted at $1,20@1,25 on spot, but future delivery could hardly be sold at these figures, as the impression prevails that prices will go lower.

HAY—Sales from country wagons at $14@18 per ton.

HIGHWINES—Are still quoted, in a jobbing way, at $1,23@1,25.

HEMP—Very dull, $205 per ton.

RIVER NEWS.

The metal mark indicated 32 inches last evening, and as there is more water than the marks indicate, there must be three feet at Rowley's chute. Weather yesterday clear and cool—mercury 82 in shade.

—The Leonidas, from New Orleans, with a slim trip, arrived at Cairo on Tuesday.

—Capt. Darragh and a portion of his crew will leave for Parkersburg this morning to bring up the Bellvernon.

—The Barranquilla passed Bellair on Wednesday, all right, and it is not probable that she will have any further difficulty.

—The Bell, we understand, is being fitted up for the Pittsburgh and Parkersburg trade. She will be commanded by Captain H. H. Sholes.

—The Dew Drop, a queer looking speciment of marine architecture, arrived from some place about Big Sandy, with a lot of oil barrels and some apples.

—The Bellevernon, nearly two weeks out from Cincinnati, arrived at Parkersburg on Tuesday. She had a very ugly time of it at Buffington. Capt. Daragh and Mr. Gebhart, the bar-keeper, arrived here on Wednesday.

—The St. Joseph Union, of Sunday, says: Passengers from up the river say there is but eighteen inches of water on the rapids—lower than known at any time before for years—and a number of boats are aground near Fort Peck.

—The Dubuque Herald, says: The deck crew of the Northern Belle left the boat yesterday with the mate, who was discharged, the company being unwilling to continue his salary at the rates lately paid. Another mate, Mr. C. Trayer, was given the position, with instructions to hire his own crew. The old crew were discharged and paid off, their places were filled, and the boat departed for St. Paul last evening with a working force.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Tuesday, says: Captain Salisbury, of the Tacony, arrived in this city yesterday with a very discouraging account of matters in the mountain trade, and does not boast of the performances of his steamer. He left her lying fourteen miles below Fort Peck, unable to come down. Half her cargo is at Peck, and half was reshiped on the Huntsville and Farragut. The crew, or a portion of it, of the Tacony, is coming down in the Sully. The barkeeper is also in town. He thinks the success of the bars has been on par with that of the steamers themselves, and that is nothing to brag of. In fact, the mountain trade has been disastrous all round. The rumor comes from a good source that all the preliminaries were yesterday settled for a sale of the steamer Evening Star.

—A St. Louis special to the Cincinnti Gazette gives the following details of the recent fire at that place: The steamboat fire, this morning, threatened at one time to be very destruc ive, but through the exertion of the crews of the Kate Kinney, Cornelia and Glasgow it was confined to the War Eagle and Evening Star. The fire caught on the latter boat, and was first discovered by the watchman on the pile driver of the Bridge Company, anchored out in the river. A canal boat, lying between the War Eagle and Kate Kinney, was mainly instrumental in saving the latter boat. Everything on the burned boats was consumed. After their lines parted they floated into the stream, and were towed to the foot of Chouteau avenue, where they were cast loosed, and they landed at Arsenal Island, where they burned to the water's edge, and sunk. They had no freight on board. The Star belonged to Thomas W. R. Crews, a lawyer of this city, four-fifths, and Lewis Wehrem, of Franklin county, one-fifth. The latter interest was insured in the Home, of New Haven, for $3,000, and the former for $10,000 in offices not now known, but supposed to be Cincinnati and Pittsburgh. The War Eagle was owned by Captain Bofinger and the estate of Charles G. Green, and insured for $5,000 in the Home, of New Haven, and National, of Boston. She was valued in April last at $9,000. The Evening Star is claimed to be worth $32,500 but her last underwriters' valuation was $11,000.

A NASHVILLE LETTER says that the Conservatives of the State have no disposition or purpose to interfere with colored suffrage. We shall see about that!

SOME of our very sanguine Republican cotemporaries have been felicitating their readers upon the fact that twenty-two or even twenty-three States have already ratified the XVth Article. Official records at Washington show that but twelve States have certified their affirmative action. Six other States have ratified, but no notice thereof has been sent to the Secretary of State.

NATURALIZED citizens of the United States who return to their native country, with the evident intent to remain there, or who accept offices there, inconsistent with citizenship here, or who otherwise conceal, for a length of time, the fact of their American naturalization, or evince in any way a disposition to abandon the rights acquired here, may thus so far resume their original allegiance as to absolve our Government from any obligation to protect them as American citizens abroad.

MR. J. E. INGERSOLL, the nominee of the Prohibitory Temperance Convention, of Ohio, for Governor, has declined the proffered honor. Although a temperance man, he is also an anti-slavery man, and regards the XVth Article as of more intrinsic importance than any other issue now before the people. He writes:

"Believing that the maintenance of an independent Temperance ticket at the coming election will hazard the success of this important measure, which I look to as the "coup de grace" of American slavery, I feel bound to give my vote and what influence I have, for the Republican ticket at this fall's election."

THE new time-schedules for fast railway trains from New York to Chicago, by the rival routes, go into effect next week. With an average speed of thirty miles per hour, including all stops, the route via Pittsburgh will require but twenty-seven hours, or three hours less than any of its rivals. This rate of speed is entirely practicable, and may be, if desired, accelerated still more, without materially increasing the peril for passengers. It is the railway owners who pay the difference between twenty-five and thirty-five miles per hour, in the increased expense of the service, the wear and tear of equipments and superstructure being at least doubled at the higher rate of speed. As for the safety of passengers, it may be well to remember that over at least seven-eights of this entire route a speed of forty miles per hour would be quite within the limits of prudence.

THE RACE TO-DAY.

Whatever may have been the feelings of apathy, heretofore, in regard to the Harvard and Oxford boat race, we think they must give place to-day to a genuine combination of interest and curiosity as to the result. To-day at five we shall probably have the news of the race in a late edition of the evening papers, possibly as early as three o'clock. Betting has been done here and elsewhere on the result, but it is a question that has been so variably discussed by the English journals that we have only our first impressions to depend upon, and there can really be said to be no odds. It may be as well here to recall a few of the facts in connection with this contest.

For some time the Oxford University crew has been the champion college crew of England, and year after year the plucky Cambridge crew has entered the contest only to be defeated. In this country the Harvard crew has held a similar position, almost every year triumphing over Yale at the Worcester races. Such being the case it is scarcely to be wondered at that, in this age of champions, a race between the two victorious colleges should have been proposed, but there was one great difficulty besides the distance to be overcome, and that was the total difference in styles, the Englishmen rowing with coxswains and the Americans without. Nearly eighteen months ago the controversy on this point threatened to frustrate completely the proposition, but the Americans were so desirous of measuring oars and testing muscles with the vaunted islanders that they yielded this point, and when they began to yield they seemed to have no definite idea as to when they ought to stop. They have gone three thousand miles away from home, they have not been allowed to choose upon any particular English water, but were forced to accept that course which, in all England, is the best known to English oarsmen. As soon as they arrived and long before they had recovered from the prostrating effects of their voyage they were urged to appoint a day upon which the race would positively take place, no matter whether the weather should be bright or rainy and foggy, such as Englishmen only can delight in. All these points the Americans have yielded in their anxiety to have a race, but if, under so many disadvantages and surrounded by so many novelties, they should win, just so much more glorious will be the victory and so much more ignominious the defeat of their hospitable but very ungenerous opponents.

The Americans took a boat over with them which at first they considered unfit for the English waters, and which was unmercifully ridiculed by the English press. After testing one or two English boats, they have at length decided to row the American boat in the race, so, as they have adhered to their style of rowing, steadily refusing English instruction, we may believe that, barring the coxswain, the contest will be really international, pitting the American boys and the American system against those of England.

Many of the British noblemen and gentry have been behaving so disgracefully recently that we might be pardoned if we doubt that fairness will be shown to the strangers to-day, but our honest opinion is that the whole affair will be managed by honorable men in an honorable manner. If it is not, ours will not be the disgrace, though we might be disappointed at the result.

The idea of friendly international contests is, we think, a new one—at least we do not remember to have heard that the youths of Egypt ever met those of Assyria in any but mortal combat. The pupils of the Grecian philosophers were not in the habit of pulling races with the young disciples of Zoroaster, nor did the educated young Carthagenians ever, to our knowledge, meet in friendly contest, with the scholar-manned triremes of Rome. Even the Chinese do not claim the honor of originating this practice, and we think we can claim it as a product of the Nineteenth Century, unless we might have to except the tournaments of the middle ages, which were, however, mere personal combats between cosmopolitans. Of all the contests for "championship," which have crowded the past decade this one most thoroughly claims our sympathy and demands our interest. Here is no giant rowdy endeavoring with his fists to beat an infamous renown from the head of an Englishman. No "little engine," whose inability to keep parallel with his oponent was proverbial, but we have instead a set of plucky, wiry young men, educated and thoroughly American, and as such we wish them glory and triumph and a safe voyage home, and sincerely hope they may not be spoiled after they get here.

THE EQUAL RIGHTS OF LABOR.

The National Labor Congress, lately sitting at Philadelphia, pronounced its judgment very clearly on one of the dead issues of the Democracy. All distinctions of race or color were completely disowned. Colored delegates participated in the proceedings, and took a leading part, on the floor and in the Committees. No discrimination is recognized in the platform of principles finally enunciated. Nothing is expressly said about the suffrage, but what was said was broad enough to cover that part of the ground. Says the N. Y. Times:

The Democratic opposition to negro enfranchisement rests upon the alleged unfitness of the colored people for the highest duties of citizenship, and upon some supposed antagonism of interest and feeling between white and black labor. On both points the trades' delegates have advanced to the ground held by the Republican party. For, having accorded to colored delegates the right to discuss and to assist in determining propositions which are offered as the basis of legislation, there can be from this quarter no further objection to colored suffrage. The race which is qualified to take an active part in a Labor Congress at Philadelphia cannot be denied the privilege of voting for representatives to sit in the larger Congress at Washington. The workingmen of the country therefore separate themselves from the Democratic party, and silently concede the justice of the Republican demand for an equality of rights, political and civil.

THE EQUALIZATION OF TAXES.

In accordance with the Act of Assembly authorizing the Auditor and Treasurer of State to compound with such counties as were delinquent for the assessed State taxes of 1866, '67 and '68, that composition was duly made last year. Of these counties, Allegheny was one. Her ascertained tax under this compromise was, for the present year, $18,890.18. This sum was carried into our county duplicate in February last, as required by law. And it has been duly collected and paid over. So far, well!

The public have very lately been advised that an additional assessment has been made by the State Revenue Board, upon personal property in this county for the current year, to the amount of about $29,000. Upon this, one city journal remarking that "on what these figures are predicated, no information is afforded," proceeds to warn the tax-payers that a sharp increase in the State taxation is in store for them. The figures, the complaint of a lack of information, and the warning from that journal are forthwith copied by another partizan newspaper, with the addition of its usual invidious reflections upon Republican management of the public finances.

A very little familiarity with the laws of the Commonwealth would have enlightened either of these unfriendly prints, with the information showing exactly "on what these figures were predicated."

Under the Act of Assembly of April, 1844, a Board of Revenue Commissioners sits at Harrisburg every three years, for equalizing the amounts of taxes in the different counties of the Commonwealth. That Board met this year. Its duties were altogether independent of any special action which had been taken, as above stated, to compound for certain delinquent taxes. The Board proceeded, as the law requires, to "adjust and equalize the valuations of the several counties." It was found that Allegheny, Schuylkill and a number of other counties were valued very much too low. For example, this county had reported a valuation only about double that of the small agricultural county of Beaver, and very decidedly below the returns from Berks and other counties, which are certainly not as wealthy as Allegheny. The Board of Equalization, doing their sworn duty, and acting upon the information before them, advanced the Allegheny valuation of personal property to about $12,000,000. That of Lancaster county is $9,000,000. The Board went through the State, county by county, raising some valuations, diminishing others and leaving still more unchanged. Its figures were returned to the State Treasurer, and by him to the County Commissioners, after the duplicates were sent out in February. The $29,000 for which Allegheny is additionally liable is the proper tax upon her equalized and increased valuation pursuant to the law of 1844. That law has been in operation for twenty-five years, and no less than eight Boards of Equalization have sat under its provisions. The present action needs the sanction of no additional legislation. Allegheny has simply been called upon to bear her just share of the burdens of the Commonwealth, to which end her plainly insufficient valuations have been fairly equalized, up to what they should be as compared with those of other counties. Her citizens are both able and willing to pay their fair proportion of the public expenses, and ask no unfair advantage over the other counties of the Commonwealth.

This added assessment of $29,000 is not likely to be collected and paid over until next year. But, whether paid then or now, the fact that it stands as a legal claim upon the tax-payers of Allegheny, does not warrant any misunderstanding of the proper operations of a law which has been the settled policy of the State for twenty-five years, or any partizan misrepresentation of those officials who have been doing only their sworn and regular duty. The facts do warrant another conclusion—which is this: if the Assessors of Allegheny county are hereafter careful not to undervalue the personal wealth of our people, there will be no legal occasion in the future for the correction of a manifest injustice toward other counties of the Commonwealth.

The Lake Shore Railway Consolidation.

The Cleveland Herald says: It is now reported that the late consolidation between the Lake Shore line and the Wabash line is really in the interest of the Erie line, the great rival of the New York Central. The Buffalo Advertiser says that the last consolidation was brought about by the Erie interests; that bp such arrangement the Erie line proposes to lay a third rail from Buffalo to New York, to correspond with the gauge of the Lake Shore line; that the Erie interest agrees not to extend the broad gauge beyond Cleveland, abandoning all broad gauge projects west of Cleveland. In consideration therefor the Lake Shore line are to maintain strict neutrality at Buffalo between the New York Central and the Erie, and the Erie managers agree to deliver and receive at Buffalo seventy-five per cent. of through freight and twenty-five per cent. at Cleveland. Whether this last arrangement is by and with the consent of Vanderbilt does not appear on the surface. There have been some features lately that look as if Vanderbilt has been the controlling spirit in the Lake Shore consolidation. If he has been left out of the reckoning, it is probable he will make some new move.

THE Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific Railroad has made arrangements to furnish thirty day tickets to California, and return, at reduced rates.

THE PARK.

Any one who will take a drive out the Perrysville plank road will see how much a driving park is wanted by our people.

I am told from seventy-five to a hundred buggies and carriages go out that road every afternoon. A few evenings ago I met twenty-seven, in half an hour's drive, coming in three miles; as a great many go out Butchers' Run, I must have missed quite a number.

Had we a park, I think it would be safe to say three hundred carriages and buggies would be in it every day. The difficulty we have in selecting a place is the strong desire of individuals in getting it as near as possible their own home. Now, a City Park is not to be made for the people of Allegheny nor for the people of East Liberty, yet the residents of this latter place think it very unreasonable that any one should object to the purchase of the Wilkins' estate.

If we get a park let it be for the benefit of as many as possible, and let it be gotten at the least possible expense that will accomplish the object. I have a thought of my own on this subject which I will express; if any one has a better suggestion, I am willing to yield.

1st. I deem it all important that we get access to the park by some good drive, by which we can avoid the cobble stones. To accomplish this, I propose the selection of the farm back of Oakland, with access on Forbes street, on Nicholson pavement of about two miles.

The entrance to the park can be made on a street just back of Charles Clarke, Esq., where about twenty or thirty acres of ground might be purchased of the woodland, occupied by soldiers during the war.

The road can be run along to a street that now gives access to the ravine and passes down by Van Voorhis' Oakland race track. Entering this ravine, you can go down to near the Monongahela ravine. Then turn to the left and the ravine will take you out in the direction of Wilkinsburg. This ravine could be followed in such a way as to make the drive almost level. The ravine is wide enough to make in it a road fifty to one hundred feet, or even more; the sides of the hills covered with beautiful trees, so that without any planting we could at once make a Parkmore beautiful than any level place can be made in years. The water of the little run could be thrown into one or more lakes, and with the expense of but making a summer road, costing but fifty or sixty thousand dollars, we could have a Park more beautiful than in one square location that would cost half a million.

I would not ask that the width of this Park should be over two hundred yards; indeed it would be only a strip of five to eight miles long. It should not cost anything for the elevation of the property through which it would pass would be three times the value of the ground taken. It would pass through six or seven thousand acres of ground; let this ground be assessed ten per cent. and it will give six or seven hundred dollars. If any one will but drive over this ground they will at once see how well it is fitted for the purpose. If the owners of this ground demand a large price, let them put on their own valueation; the advance on the rest of the ground will correspond and their own price can be afforded. I have no property on this side of the river, but if the city will but come to the Allegheny side with a park and select a ravine where I have property, I will not only give 10 per cent. of the land, but I will give 25 feet and feel that I will be profited, for I know the land will be doubled in value.

The thirty acres I would suggest buying near Oakland should be laid out for children's play ground, where children could be conveniently sent out by the Oakland cars. B.

Latter-Day Democracy in Massachusetts.

We quote a few paragraphs from the speech of Mr. ADAMS, when accepting the Democratic nomination for Governor, on the 24th:

I think that the defeat which we suffered in the election last fall substantially settled the two questions of reconstruction and negro suffrage. Much as we dislike that settlement—and no one dislikes it more thoroughly than I do—there is no way short of revolution by which we can avoid it or overturn it; by which we can help accepting it whether we like it or not. It is settled for the next four years at least; and probably (looking to the Constitution of the United States Senate, which every man should bear in mind as the practical and actual Government of the country) it seems to me impossible that we can obtain any change for the next ten years at least. During that time this absurd policy of unrestricted, unqualified negro suffrage at the South will have to be thoroughly tried. Even when its failure is ascertained—even then, I think it probable that in Massachusetts the moderate men will not favor any very extended disqualification. I believe that by that time the white men of the South will have done—and they are doing to-day—just what I urge you to do to day. They are accepting the situation, taking the problem with all the inevitable absurdities attending it, and they are bending it to their own uses, as I would have the Democratic party bend the situation to their uses. [Cheers.]

But whether that is so or not, it seems to me that the time for that debate is past. Last Fall it was proper to engage in it, and it was the duty of every man to urge that that terrible crime should not be inflicted upon us. But as reconstruction has been forced upon us—as it was—it seems to me that we should take it. We should say it is inevitable. We will look the matter in the face, and the problem now for us is, "things actually stand as things are to-day, (not as we would have them,) and what does the public welfare demand?" To act otherwise would be to be as foolish as would be a general who should cannonade an empty wood with the enemy firing away at his unprotected rear. Let such strategists waste their ammunition on the empty woods and on the debris of the battle field. [Applause.]

THE Cathedral of Cologne is rapidly progressing. The northern tower now equals in height the southern one, and the chapter house and sacristy are completed with the exception of the iron roofing; 385,617 thalers, 13 sgrs. 6 pf. were spent on the building last year. The ancient front gate of the Cathedral is at length completed and adorned with 100 statues of white marble and eight magnificent bas reliefs of the Savior, the latter executed by Prof. Mohr. The King of Prussia undaunted by the legendary objections against the completion of this old Cathedral, is bravely pursuing the work, although it is dedicated to the Roman Catholic Church, and he himself is a staunch supporter of the Reformation.

Political Items.

George William Curtis thinks that although the Democratic party is no longer formidable as a party of principles, yet as an organized conspiracy against the purity of the ballot box it is still much to be feared.

It is a fact to be gratefully remembered by tax-payers, that under the administration of Gov. Geary, not only has the State debt been reduced nearly five millions of dollars, but the tax upon real estate has been entirely abolished. With Grant in the Presidential chair and Geary reelected Governor, both the National and the State debt will no doubt continue to diminish, as it has done, and the time will soon arrive when a still further reduction of taxation will be realised. All that is wanted to effect this most desirable end, is the election to the Legislature of men who can be relied upon to protect the Treasury instead of joining in dishonest schemes to plunder it.

When the unterrified Democracy were returning from Harrisburg to Philadelphia, after they had nominated Asa Packer for Governor, a murderous assault was made by a gang of them upon a gentleman connected with the Pennsylvania Railroad. They forced themselves into a car in which were ladies, knocked him down, and would have killed him outright had not a commanding voice arisen above the noise of the rolling wheels of the cars, and wild yells of the ruffians: "What yer 'bout ther? Stop that? Don't yer know that Packer's only nominated! He's not 'lected yet. Yer haint forgot Jerry Eaton, have yer? Geary's Gov'ner yet, and will hang every one of yer! Wait till Packer's 'lected, and then you can pitch in!"

The movement for removing Belmont from the Democratic National Committee, and putting Tweed in his place, appears popular with the Democracy of New York, and is said to be favorably received elsewhere.

The Aerial Avitor.

Recent letters from California convey the cheering information that the "Avitor," the flying ship, which was to make the air passage from San Francisco to New York in a week or less, is not a complete failure, though it has the serious objection to success, that the model now exhibited will not lift and carry more than eighty pounds weight. It is proposed, however, to build a new "Avitor" one hundred and fifty feet long and forty feet wide, which, theoretically, ought to carry eight thousand pounds, and, with favorable winds, to attain a speed of ten or twelve miles an hour. As this is only a very good stage-coach rate, it becomes a question as to the utility of the "Avitor," even if it is a success. Theoretically, too, the new machine is to be safe from storms, for it would only float in the wildest hurricane, even if it was driven at the rate of one hundred miles an hour, just as a boat floats with the tide or with the current of a river. The security from all danger, the projectors say, is that "the aerial ship is wholly in the air." The same thing has been said of certain castles in Spain.—New York Post.

Presentation of a Cane to the Poet Whittier.

In spite of the assertions that Barbara Frietchie was a myth there is the most positive proof to the contrary, and that her flag waved defiance all day to the rebels in Frederick; and it is said that this was by no means the limit of the old lady's courage; for she did not hesitate to drive the gray coats, by a summary and vigorous use of her cane, from the piazza when they came there, using at the same time, language quite expressive of her appreciation of their real character. The house in which the old lady lived has recently been pulled down, as we have already stated, but the citizens of the town have procured from the timbers a solid oak cane for presentation to John G. Whittier as a memento of the heroine whose valor he has celebrated in that beautiful poem, The cane is plain, and entirely without ornament, but quite prized by Mr. Whittier, to whom it will be transmitted by Dr. Louis H. Steiner, of Fredericksburg, formerly Chief Inspector of the Sanitary Commission.

State Labor Reform Convention.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

BOSTON, August 26.—In the State Labor Reform Convention to-day resolutions to the following effect were adopted: declaring that the claims of labor are superior to the claims of any party or issue now before the people and will be a paramount consideration in the bestowal of our votes in the coming State election in the choice of State officers and members of the Legislature; that only by thorough organization can labor protect itself against the continually increasing encroachment of capital; asking for labor associations the same chartered rights and privileges granted to associations of capitalists; demanding the enactment of statutes making ten hours a legal day's work in all factories in this State and the enforcement of the law against the employment of minors under ten years of age in the cotton or woolen factories of Massachusetts; reaffirming the declaration of the National Labor Union in favor of temperance, education and morality as necessary to success; recommending the immediate formation of a workingmen's political party, to be known as the Labor Reform Party of Massachusetts, for the purpose of securing thorough action and protection for the rights and interests of workingmen and women; announcing that their motto is equal rights and privileges for all in every field of industry, irrespective of color, sex or birth-place; declaring co-operation, industry and exchange to be the final and permanent solution of the long conflict between capital and labor, and urging the working classes throughout the country to take wise and careful measures for its early adoption. Numerous amendments to the above resolutions, giving rise to considerable debate, were offered, but rejected. No other business of importance was transacted and the Convention adjourned.

The Gettysburg Convocation.

GETTYSBURG, August 26.—This forenoon the localities occupied by 2nd, 3rd, 5th, and 6th Corps were fixed. About twelve hours were devoted to this work, and many disputed points were definitely settled. A number of the most prominent Generals who participated in the battle were present and gave valuable information. The general line of the fifth day's battle will be staked to-morrow.

The marble statue representing "Plenty," was to-day placed on the monument, in the soldiers' cemetery. The remaining corner will be occupied by that of "Peace." The statue of "War" and "History" have for sometime been in position.

SOMNAMBULISM.

Frightful Leap—A Boy Jumps Out of a Third Story Window and Falls to the Sidewalk.

About two o'clock this morning, Eddie Clark, aged thirteen years, residing at the corner of Second avenue and Market street, jumped from a third story window, to the sidewalk, and received injuries which will probably prove fatal. It appears that he is in the habit of walking in his sleep and at the time stated got up out of bed in which he and an older brother were sleeping and started toward the window. In getting out of bed he awoke his brother, who, seeing him in the act of climbing out of the window, ran and caught him, when Eddie turned and told him to let go or he would kill him. The brother held him and called for help, when his uncle, who was sleeping in an adjoining room, ran to see what was wrong and instead of catching Eddie, who was partly out of the window and struggling to free himself from the grasp of his brother, caught the brother and pulled him back thus breaking his hold on Eddie who fell to the sidewalk. He was immediately taken into the house and two physicians sent for. On examination it was found that no bones were broken and he had received no serious external injurry, but congestion of the brain set in almost immediately from which it is feared he will not recover.

Watch Recovered.

A telegram from Springfield, Illinois, was received by Chief Hague, Wednesday evening, requesting him to arrest a negro who would arrive in this city on the two o'clock train from the west, having in his possesion a watch that did not belong to him, that if he gave up the watch to release him and if not to hold him in custody. At the appointed time the negro arrived, and officer O'Mara arrestted him. He gave up the watch, which he said he had got in an honest "trade" from another man, and was permi ted to go. He had a ticket for Washington, D. C. The watch is now in the hands of Chief Hague.

Petroleum Prizes.

In the earlier days of the petroleum oil mania nothing was more common than to hear of fortunate borers, who, in endeavoring to strike oil, went through successive strata of the best Orange county butter, pure bear grease, adamantine candle stock, wanting only the wicks, and at last, instead of reaching petroleum, ended in a subterranean lake of the finest olive oil. The latest luck of this sort has happened in Louisiana. A petroleum company, which has been boring since April, 1866, has at last struck, not oil, but, at the depth of four hundred and forty-five feet, a bed of sulphur, said to be two hundred and five feet thick, of which one hundred and five feet are the purest crystalized sulphur ever discovered. A reported analysis by a competent chemist gives ninety-eight and twenty-five one hundredths of pure sulphur.

THE schooner Congress picked up, last week, a dead fin-back whale off Cape Elizabeth, and next day the whale was towed inside the breakwater in Portland Harbor. It is about sixty-five feet long and will yield thirty or forty barrels of oil, worth $1,300. The whale was undoubtedly killed by a sword fish, the abdomen being pierced in a number of places by the weapon of that belligerant little fish.

PAINLESS DIGESTION.

"No man," says Sir Astley Cooper, "ought to know by his sensations that he has a stomach." In other words, when digestion is perfect there is neither pain nor uneasiness in the region where it takes place. Nausea, want of appetite, flatulency, oppression after eating, shooting pains in the epigastrum, a flushing in the face at meal times, and a furred tongue in the morning, are among the direct symptoms of indigestion. Constipation, biliousness, headache, nervous irritability, physical weakness and low spirits, are its almost invariable accompaniments. All these indications of DYSPEPSIA, whether immediate or secondary, are usually aggravated by hot weather.

The close of summer is therefore the season when the victim of dyspepsia most urgently needs a tonic and regulating medicine. Of course, every invalid has many advisers. One friend recommends one drug, another another; but in a multitude of counsellors there is not always safety. The STANDARD REMEDY OF THE PRESENT AGE FOR INDIGESTION, in all its stages, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS. Time, that proves all things, has established its reputation on an impregnable foundation,—the spontaneous testimony of millions of intelligent witnesses. No acrid oil or acid defies its stimulating principle: its tonic constituents are the finest that botanical research has yet discovered; it combines the properties of a gentle evacuant, a blood depurent and an anti-bilious medicine, with invigorating qualities of the highest order, and is admitted both by the public and the profession to be the surest protection against all diseases that are produced or propagated by pestiferous air or unwholesome water that has ever been used either in the United States or Tropical America.

In cases of constipation, resulting from a want of muscular tone in the intestines, the effect of the BITTERS is perfectly marvellous; and without the dangerous sequences of mercury, it restores the disordered liver to a normal condition.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 26, 1869.

The decline in gold to 131½ on Saturday last has attracted some strong buyers for a rise, the oversold condition of the market being favorable for a rise, the operators showed a bold face at the beginning, but bought sparingly. The real object, however, was to sustain the bond and stock market. Gold opened to-day at 134, but gradually declined to 133, and is likely to go lower for to-morrow. The improvement in bond quotations from Europe is more favorable, and it may turn out that the market there is actually very bouyant. Lower bond quotations must be looked for. The large importers are all in favor of lower gold, and some houses can get from the banks all the gold they require until next year.

Bonds are stronger, the offerings being small for the Government purchases, yet lower gold prices will gradually bring down bonds, and unless it will be officially published to-morrow that the Government will continue to buy bonds next month, a considerable decline is looked for immediately. Purchases of bonds for September means lower gold and bonds, and a permanent decline.

Stock, showed some strength, but closed dull this evening. Money easy, yet business is dull.

PETROLEUM MARKET.

OFFICE OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, August 26, 1869.

The oil market to-day was rather quiet with a light volume of business in the aggregate, and no material change in prices. Antwerp is reported off half a france; this matter, however, is of no great importance, as Antwerp is not as prominent a point as it was some years ago, and private advices from that place would indicate that instead of Antwerp controling the markets here, it is controlled by our markets. Advices from Hamburg, state that the arrivals at that port in July, were much larger than during any preceding year, but, as an offset against this, the receipts at some neighboring ports were smaller than usual. The fact is, nearly all the foreign correspondence that has come under our observation, recently, speak hopefully, predicting a large consumptive demand, but stating at the same time that the course of the market, in regard to prices, depends mainly upon the movements of the trade in this country. According to the latest advices from New York, the exports from this country from January 1st to date, are about the sam as during the same time last year—a few weeks ago there was considerable of an excess.

CRUDE.

The market was moderately active, the sales being somewhat larger than those of yesterday, while prices have undergone no essential change. Sales 1,000 August at 14¾; 2,000 and 5,000, seller, September, at 14¾. Buyer all year is reported as being offered freely at 15½ without finding buyers, and seller all year is nominal at 14¼. Private advices from Oil City report offers to sell seller 30 days, at $5,75 which is considered equivalent to 14¾ here. September to December, that is for a "line," may be quoted at 14⅜.

REFINED.

Sales of two lots of 500 each for last half of September at 32¼, and 500 each September to December at 32¾. August quoted at 31¾@31⅞—off a fraction compared with yesterday; buyer all year offering at 33¼; and September to December may be quoted at 32⅝@32½.

alling Fate of a Depraved Couple.

the 27th of last month a woman, rently thirty five years of age, and nary good looks, entered a little whis- hop on New Market street, Jsfferson-, Ind. She said that she was from nphis, a little town fifteen miles back Jeffersonville. She feigned sickness asked for a drink. The proprietor ve her a drink of beer. She then pro- sed to treat the crowd which was loiter- g around the place. Among them was man named George Barnacle, of Ger- an descent, a native of Harrison county, nd a cooper. Although he would occa- sionally spree, he was considered a good- natured, honest, industrious man He took up with Mary Sarah Ann Jones, (the name she gave,) and a trip to New Albany for mutual pleasure resulted. So greatly attached to each other did they at length become, that they plighted troth ere sundown, and the next day procured marriage license, and were married. The rashness of poor Barnacle in taking up so quickly with a strange woman was generally deprecated by his friends, much more so when it was seen that he daily became more dissipated, and that he, day by day, was less attentive to business and more attached to his grog. He had always paid his board bills promptly, but he soon came to be a delinquent. Matters grew worse and worse up to Saturday night last. For three weeks previous they had occupied rooms in the house of Mr. Shaffer. Previous to mov- ing Barnacle discovered his fatal mistake, and determined to live with his wife no longer. He accordingly left her, but she soon hunted him down and made him consent to live with her. On Saturday their domestic affairs were worse than ever. They remained up until one o'clock Sunday morning, carousing, drinking and disturbing their neighbors. The wife was heard to say something about two doses of poison. At seven o'clock on Sunday morning Mrs. Barnacle got up for breakfast, and after it was prepared she called her husband, who, however, made no reply. She called him a second time, saying with an oath, "I want you to get up for breakfast. I'll be—— if I am going to be imposed on this way." Barnacle got up finally, about nine o'clock. A friend of his, Breez Holmes, stepped in and incidentally remarked that he was in town and he thought he would like to see Barnacle's new wife. Barnacle replied, "here she is, a —— nice object for any person to look at. I am ashamed of her; I wish she was dead."

Soon after this the singular couple re- turned to drinking and were again drunk before noon. They were seen upon the streets, and she was known to have pre- pared dinner. Shortly after noon Bar- nacle and his friend went out and pur- chased fifteen cents worth of beer—a quart and a half. They returned with it, and soon afterwards the woman drank of it. Both husband and wife were now very drunk. Very soon the woman showed symptoms that indicated some- thing more serious than drunkness. Barnacle picked up the bucket by his wife's side and said "I am going to drink this beer." His friend remonstrated with- out avail, he too was soon taken sick, with symptoms like those of his wife. Dr. Schweitzer was called in and found the woman to be dying of poison, and from the symptoms he pronounced the drug to be morphine or opium. He gave her a dose or two of calomel, but this seemed to have no effect, With fixed, staring eyes, frothing mouth, an intense fever, and in specchless stupor, she soon died. her husband was lying not far from her almost naked on the floor. No fears as to his danger had yet been aroused. The doctor looked at him but supposed him to be drunk and passed out. The poison, however, sped quickly on its errand of death, and before half- past four o'clock, after passing through the same premonitions of approaching death as had his wife, he also died miser- ably. The Coroner summoned a jury which, after a lengthy and thorough in- vestigation, rendered a verdict that the two deceased persons came to their death by poison administered with their own hands. Whether it was the wife or the husband who put the poison in the beer is not certainly known. The neighbors who live in the vicinity, the jurymen and the Coroner, who had the best chance of a thorough acquaintance with the nature of this dreadful affair, believe that the wife procured the poison and put it in the beer, but did it with the approbation of her husband. Mr. Barnacle, when advised by his friend not to drink the beer, said, "Yes, I will drink the beer if it kills me." —Louisville Journal.

Murder on Broad Top.

A most cowardly and cold-blooded murder was committed on Broad Top near Dudley on Saturday evening the 21st inst., between nine and ten o'clock. Patrick Mackey, a miner, working in the coal mine of D. Blair, on his way home Saturday night from Dudley to Barnetstown was waylaid and murdered near the Barnet Bank. He was struck across the back of the neck and across the forehead with a piece of flat bar-iron, breaking the skull and injuring the spine. He lingered unconscious for several hours and died Sunday morning. Sev- eral parties are under arrest for the com- mission of the offence, and warrants are out for others. We understand that Mr. Mackey, the man who was thus brutally murdered, was a peaceable, industrious and inoffensive young man. He leaves a brother and two sisters to mourn his un- timely end. It appears from what we can learn, that there is a Miners' Union League or Society on Broad Top, which undertakes to regulate the price of min- ing coal and other work in and about the different coal mines; and on account of one or two men, members of this League not getting the work and wages they wanted, no work was permitted by this League to be done at the Blair mine for the first ten days of this month. A new set of men, of whom Mackey, the mur- dered man, was one, started the mine and were denounced as "black sheep" by the members of the Union. This difficulty no doubt led to the murder of poor Mackey. But as the whole matter will undergo a thorough legal investigation, we forbear to say anything more at present.—Huntingdon Globe.

THE draft horse kept at the Massasoit Mill at Huntington, Mass., recently drew a load of iron weighing, with the wagon, 4,560 pounds from the mill to the village hay scales, a distance of one-third of a mile, part of it a sandy grade of about three degrees rise. The horse is a chest- nut, sixteen hands high, and weighs 1,150 pounds.

The Latest Philadelphia Horror.

Early Tuesday morning Mr. Thomas L. Evans, aged 63 years, was killed by his son, Marshall H. Evans, at the house of Mrs. Belshaw, No. 306 South Tenth street, Philadelphia. The house is occu- pied in part by the family of Mr. Evans. The family were assembled at breakfast and had entered into a general discussion of the strange behavior of Marshall Evans for some time past, and they had deter- mined that the father, after breakfast, should visit the family physician, Dr. Van Dyke, who had expressed his con- viction that the son was insane and had better be sent to an asylum, in order to procure from the doctor a certificate of the son's mental condition, on which he could be removed to an asylum. Just as the conversation was concluded Marshall came into the breakfast room and took his seat at the table. His father bade him good morning, but he made no reply to this salutation, and it was suspected by all present that he had overheard the con- versation. He ate heartily, and while he was thus engaged his father left the room to change his dressing gown for a coat, and procuring his hat, Mr. Evans started down the front stairway. In the mean- time Marshall had stepped out into the hall. Here he paced up and down, stop- ping occasionally at the bottom of the stairway to look up. On his father reach- ing the hall landing, Marshall walked to- ward the front door, and as the father was stepping into the vestibule the son drew a revolver and fired three shots in rapid succession. The father then re- treated through the parlors to the hall again, and back toward the dining-room. In passing the pantry he clutched at the door, and then fell into the arms of Mrs. Belshaw. She laid him on the floor. Marshall followed his father all the way back, and as the body was lying on the floor he bent over it, but said nothing. Mrs. Belshaw remarked to him, "Mar- shall, see what you have done," to which he made no answer. The young ladies, hearing the shots and seeing Marshall with a pistol in his hand, ran away shriek- ing, and the alarm brought assistance from the street, when Marshall was taken into custody. On being questioned, he replied, "I don't feel right." The father died soon after the firing of the shots.

Young Evans is 26 years of age. He has been afflicted with rheumatism for many years. Recently he has behaved in a frantic manner toward his wife threat- ening her life. They were living at Riverside, N. J. He came to the city Monday, followed by his wife, and on reaching his father's house behaved strangely. During the night he threat- ened his father with a knife. After the father got up this morning the son got possession of a pistol which was given to him by the former as a present years ago. This was the weapon used in the tragedy. The scene of the homicide is very near that of the Twitchell murder.

A Boy Murders His Playmate.

On Thursday last, Albert Cochran, a boy 11 years of age, shot and killed Sam- uel Henry Harris, aged 13 years, under the following circumstances: The parents of the two boys live at Gilroy, in adjoin- ing houses. The boys and other children were at Cochran's house amusing them- selves at play, the parents being absent. Albert went into an adjoining room, and was followed by Harry. Albert forbade him going into the room. Harry insist- ed. Albert told him if he did he would shoot him. Harry continued to advance, when Albert grabbed a shot gun, and pointing it at him, cocked it and fired, the charge entering the abdomen from the front. The gun is an extra large one, stub and twist barrel, and was load- ed with No. 7 shot. At the time the gun was discharged Harry must have been within one or two feet of the muzzle, as his clothes were on fire and badly pow- der burned, and the entire charge, wad- ding and all, passed into him. The boys ran out of the house, and an elder brother of the wounded boy, hearing the report of the gun and the screams of the boys, ran towards the door and saw Harry, who was standing at the door, leaning against it, with his hand over the wound. Harry cried out,

"O, my brother, I am dead. Ally has shot me." The brother then tenderly conveyed him to his house adjoining, and summoned physicians immediately. The boy who did the shooting, it appears, fully understood the situation, and ran off to a neighbor's where his mother had been visiting. The physician came, and an examination satisfied him that the wound was mortal. This information was imparted to the almost distracted pa- rents, brothers and sisters. Little Harry lived till half past seven that night.

It was indeed a trying scene to see the mother at the dying couch of her belov- ed boy, summoned so suddenly from the endearing presence of parents, brothers, sisters and friends.

Harry summoned all his playmates, and as they stood around his bed he call- ed their attention to the horrible, fearful wound in his abdomen, presenting a mu- tilated and bloody hole, large enough to admit a hen's egg, which spoke to them in silent yet potent speech, admonishing them of the fearful results of shooting a fellow being.

He then sent for Albert, the boy who fired the fatal shot. Upon entering the room in company with his mother, he was told to kneel and ask Harry's par- don, but before the words could have ut- terance Harry spoke up and freely forgave him. The deceased was a boy of extra- ordinary intelligence, and was a favorite both among his associates and the adults of our town.—Gilroy (Cal.) Advocate.

Mortality Among Mormons.

As might be expected, the mortality among Mormon children is frightful. The polygamists are like the old woman who lived in a shoe, and do not know what to do with their many children; at any rate they do not properly care for them. Of sixty deaths in Salt Lake City in a month, forty-four were children. Heber Kimball is reported to have buried forty-eight children out of sixty-three in his collection; one bishop had lost twen- ty children; another twenty-eight; an- other seventeen. Joseph Smith had six wives, but left only two sons. The death rate among Mormons of all ages is said to be greater than that of Chicago or New Orleans, and more than twice as great as that of Oregon.

THE Lilium Auratum, the golden striped Lily, recently introduced from Japan, is now in bloom in the gardens where it has been planted, and presents on each stalk four or five large flowers, each not less than ten inches in diameter. The purple stem, about two feet, bears a saucer shaped flower composed of six spreading petals of an ivory white color, thinly strewn with purple points or studs and oval purple stains. In the centre is a broad stripe of light satin yellow.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

☞ SCHENCK'S PULMONIC SYRUP, SEAWEED TONIC AND MANDRAKE PILLS will cure Consumption, Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, if taken accord- ing to directions. They are all three to be taken at the same time. They cleanse the stomach, re- lax the liver and put it to work; then the appetite becomes good; the food digests and makes good blood; the patient begins to grow in flesh; the diseased matter ripens into the lungs, and the patient outgrows the disease and gets well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

To these three medicines Dr. J. H. Schenck, of Philadelphia, owes his unrivaled success in the treatment of pulmonary Consumption. The Pul- monic Syrup ripens the morbid matter in the lungs, nature throws it off by an easy expectora- tion, for when the phlegm or matter is ripe a slight cough will throw it off, and the patient has rest and the lungs begin to heal.

To do this, the Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills must be freely used to cleanse the stomach and liver, so that the Pulmonic Syrup and the food will make good blood.

Schenck's Mandrake Pills act upon the liver, removing all obstructions, relax the ducts of the gall bladder, the bile starts freely, and the liver is soon relieved; the stools will show what the Pills can do; nothing has ever been invented ex- cept calomel (a deadly poison which is very dan- gerous to use unless with great care,) that will unlock the gall bladder and start the secretions of the liver like Schenck's Mandrake Pills.

Schenck's Seaweed Tonic is a gentle stimulant and alterative and the alkali in the Seaweed, which this preparation is made of, assists the stomach to throw out the gastric juice to dissolve the food with the Pulmonic Syrup, and it is made into good blood without fermentation or souring in the stomach.

The great reason why physicians do not cure Consumption is, they try to do too much; they give medicine to stop the cough, to stop chills, to stop night sweats, hectic fever, and by so doing they derange the whole digestive powers, lock- ing up the secretions, and eventually the patient sinks and dies.

Dr. Schenck, in his treatment, does not try to stop a cough, night sweats, chills or fever. Re- move the cause, and they will all stop of their own accord. No one can be cured of Consump- tion, Liver Complaint, Dyspepsia, Catarrh, Canker, Ulcerated Throat, unless the liver and stomach are made healthy.

If a person has consumption, of course the lungs in some way are diseased, either tubercles, abcesses, bronchial irritation, pleura adhesion, or the lungs are a mass of inflammation and fast decaying. In such cases what must be done? It is not only the lungs that are wasting, but it is the whole body. The stomach and liver have lost their power to make blood out of food. Now the only chance is to take Dr. Schenck's three medi- cines, which will bring up a tone to the stomach, the patient will begin to want food, it will digest easily and make good blood; then the patient be- gins to gain in flesh, and as soon as the body be- gins to grow, the lungs commence to heal up, and the patient gets fleshy and well. This is the only way to cure consumption.

When there is no lung disease and only Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, Schenck's Seaweed Tonic and Mandrake Pills are sufficient, without the Pulmonic Syrup. Take the Mandrake Pills freely in a bilious complaints, as they are per- fectly harmless.

Dr. Schenck, who has enjoyed uninterrupted health for many years past, and now weighs 245 pounds, was wasted away to a mere skeleton, in the very last stage of Pulmonary Consumption, his physicians having pronounced his case hope- less and abandoned him to his fate. He was cured by the aforesaid medicines, and since his recove- ry thousands of similar cases have used Dr. Schenck's preparation with the same re- markable success. Full directions accompany each, making it not absolutely necessary to per- sonally see Dr. Schenck, unless patients wish their lungs examined, and for this purpose he is professionally at his Principal Office, Philadel- phia, every Saturday, where all letters for advice must be addressed. He is also professionally at No. 32 Bond street, New York, every other Tuesday, and at No. 33 Hanover street, Boston, every other Wednesday. He gives advice free, but for a thorough examination with his Respi- rometer the price is $5. Office hours at each city from 9 A. M. to 3 P. M.

Price of the Pulmonic Syrup and Seaweed Ton- ic each $1.50 per bottle, or $7.50 a half dozen. Mandrake Pills 25 cents a box. For sale by all druggists. mv19:151-d&F

For Smoke and Hot Air Flues, dispensing with the use of stoves and fire in or about the Pas- senger or Baggage Cars, with the attachment to graduate the heat to any temperature that may be desired without the possibility of firing the car or cars to which the Jacket may be attached. Having obtained of the United States Letters Patent for a Safety Jacket, which is warranted to resist the most intense heat that may be ap- plied to it in the position and purpose for which it is intended.

It is a sure protection from accidents by fire, originating from defective flues or where iron pipes are used as conductors for smoke or heat. It is applicable to all piping that may become overheated, and is warranted to give perfect sat- isfaction where wood or other combustible mate- rial may be placed in close proximity thereto. I am now ready to apply my invention to stores, dwellings, factories, ships, steamboats, railroad cars, &c. Wherever pipes as conductors are made dangerous by being overheated and secu- rity desired, I will send on application right to manufacture or use the above invention. Coming Down.—The mercury which for the past week has been up in the "nineties," has fallen about twenty degrees during the past twenty-four hours.

Dead Dog.—About twelve o'clock last evening, one of the guardians of the night, willfully and deliberately with malice aforethought, shot and killed a dog, on Fifth avenue in front of the Gazette office, where the carcass of the unfortunate canine was allowed to remain until this morning.

Pocket Picked.—Yesterday morning a lady in attendance at the auction sale of Hess' dry goods store, Ohio street, Allegheny, had her pocket relieved of a portmonnaie containing ten dollars. A man in the crowd was arrested on suspicion, but afterwards discharged, there being no proof against him.

Disorderly Conduct.—Elizabeth Fennell made information before Justice Ammon, of East Birmingham, yesterday, charging George Jacob with assault and battery. She alledges that he met her on the street and pushed her violently and otherwise abused her. A warrant was issued.

Surety of the Peace.—It was alleged by Elizabeth Fennell that Susan Jacob, who is a neighbor of Elizabeth's, acted in a disorderly manner and threatened to do the said Elizabeth bodily harm. Justice Ammon thought her actions not in accordance with the rules of propriety, issued a warrant for the arrest of Susan for surety of the peace.

Officers Elected.—Under an order from the Governor, issued to Captain Merritt Bachelor, of the Allegheny Zouaves, that officer held an election for officers of the "Duquesne Greys," of this city, last evening, which resulted as follows: Captain, David Campbell: 1st Lieutenant, W. Held Over.

The fight between the proprietors of Nos. 11 and 13 Sixth (late St. Clair) street, is still progressing and is likely to continue until one or the other of the parties remove to some other quarters. Information was made yesterday charging James Samuels and James Simonton, salesmen at No. 11, with disorderly conduct, and the hearing which took place at three o'clock, was largely attended. Death of A. J. Stuart.

The many friends of this gentleman, in Pittsburgh and Allegheny, will regret to hear that after a brief sickness he died on Wednesday, of this week, at his residence in Monongahela city. His remains will be brought to the residence of his father-in-law, John Sampson, Allegheny, (late Manchester,) whence the funeral will proceed to Allegheny Cemetery at 10 o'clock this morning. Mr. Stuart was the second son of the late James P. Stuart, one of the old time jobbing dry goods merchants of Pittsburgh—and was we believe a native of this city, and after the retirement of his father from active life, was for several years engaged in the produce business and in the river commerce of this city. At the death of his father, he removed to Monongahela City to take charge of the family estate in that neighborhood. His death was wholly unexpected, and will be lamented by numerous attached friends, and still more poignantly by his stricken and bereaved family.

ALLEGHENY COUNCILS.

Regular Meeting—Petitions—Reports of Committees—Resolutions, &c.

A regular semi-monthly meeting of the Select and Common Councils of Allegheny was held on Thursday evening, August 26th, 1869.

Select Council.

Members present:—Messrs. Callery, English, Faulkner, Gwinner, Hall, Long, Morrison, Gilmore, Patterson, J. C., Phillips, Riddle, Reiter, and President McBrier.

The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and approved.

PETITIONS.

Mr. English presented a petition from the citizens of the Seventh ward, asking for the establishing of a grade on Lombard street. Referred to the Street Committee.

Also, a petition for water pipes on Spring alley. Referred to the Water Committee.

Also, a petition for the change of the name of Spring alley, asking that it be called a street.

Mr. English suggested that it be called Columbus or Coleman street. No action.

SEWERAGE BONDS.

Mr. Hall, Chairman of the Finance Committee, presented the report of said Committee, which was accompanied by an ordinance providing for the printing of sewerage bonds.

Mr. Hall moved that the bonds be of the denomination of $5,000 and $1,000. Adopted.

Also, that the bonds run for ten years, and that the rate of interest be seven per cent.

Mr. Patterson moved that bonds be prepared to the amount of $30,000.

Mr. Phillips amended by making the amount $50,000.

Mr. English moved to amend by making the amount named sufficient to defray the expenses of the sewers now under contract, or that may hereafter be put under contract.

The amendment was adopted, and the ordinance as amended passed finally.

CITY HALL SQUARE.

Mr. Riddle, from the Committee on City Property, presented a report in reference to the enclosure of the City Hall square with an iron fence, instead of a wooden one as had been proposed. This decision was arrived at after an examination of all the styles. The Committee had assurances that the fence could be constructed at a cost of about three dollars per foot, and offered a resolution authorizing the Committee on City Property to contract with the lowest and best bidder for the same.

The Committee also offered a resolution instructing the City Controller to purchase three clocks, one for the Controller, and one for each of the Council Chambers, at a cost not exceeding ten dollars each.

The report was received and the resolutions relative to the fence passed finally.

The resolution relative to clocks was, on motion of Mr. Hall, amended so as to read one clock for the Controller's office.

Mr. Phillips moved that the whole "clock business" be laid on the table. Adopted.

In C. C. the resolution relative to the fence around City Hall square was amended so as to instruct the Committee to report plans and the cost per foot of said improvement.

The clock resolution was adopted.

S. C. adhered to former action and asked a Committee of Conference, and Messrs. Riddle and Faulkner were appointed. In C. C. Messrs. Hastings, Price and Warner were appointed, and the Committee reported, recommending S. C. to recede and concur with C. C., which report was adopted.

THE STREETS.

Mr. Patterson, from the Committee on Streets, presented the following report:

Gentlemen, your Committee on Streets respectfully report as follows:

In relation to the application of Wm. McClintock, Esq., for refunding sewer tax, no provision has been made as yet to procure funds wherewith to refund, and owing to the fact that the law gives Councils ten years in which to refund, it was not deemed important to make an assessment for the present year for such purpose.

In relation to the petition of residents on Evans alley, asking that the width of the sidewalk be fixed at five feet, your committee report a general ordinance covering this matter and ask that it be adopted.

In the matter of the petition of property owners of Pasture Lane relating to the possibility of that thoroughfare being made the same width as Irwin avenue, your committee of course could not tell what in future Councils might not attempt, and as there is no other way of reaching the matter, your committee must submit a resolution authorizing the appointment of viewers to assess damages and benefits of said opening.

Your committee recommend the changing of the name of Spring alley to Coleman street. An ordinance authorizing the same accompanies the report.

In relation to the opening of Jefferson street, from the west line of Beckfield's lots to Ackley alley. A resolution authorizing the appointment of viewers accompanies the report.

The ordinances referred to in the report were presented and passed finally.

The resolution relative to the opening of Pasture lane to a width of sixty feet was, on motion of Mr. Riddle, laid over.

The resolution for the opening of Jefferson street was adopted.

The profile of grade on Evans alley was adopted.

The profile of change of grade on Madison avenue was presented and approved.

THE WATER SUPPLY.

Mr. Long, from the Committee on Water, presented the following report:

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Water would respectfully report that they had before them the subject of the short supply of water in the Second and Third wards, and, as part of the same subject, discussed the immediate and prospective necessity of securing a site for a basin having a greater altitude, the present basin being too low to supply a large portion of the city with water. The project of the last session of Councils, viz: the tapping of the basin on the north side and the laying of twenty-eight inch and twelve inch pipes to connect with the water main on Federal street was revived and discussed. The Committee were of the opinion that the plan would partially serve the purpose intended, viz: afford a larger and purer supply of water, but it was regarded only a temporary solution of the trouble, and any arrangements that did not contemplate a new and larger basin, with greater altitude and new water works, would be injudicious and short sighted. Your Committee submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, That the Committee on Water be and they are hereby authorized to tap the basin on the north side and lay twenty inch and twelve inch pipes, via Willow street, Spring Garden avenue, O'Hara street, North avenue, James and Hemlock streets, to connect with the water main on Federal street.

Resolved, That the Committee on Water, in connection with the Engineer and Superintendent of Water Works, be instructed to inquire into and report upon a new and proper site for water reservoir.

The report was accepted and the resolutions adopted.

THE LIBRARY.

Mr. English, from the Committee on Conference, relative to the removal of the Library, reported that the Committee could not agree. Accepted.

RESOLUTION.

Mr. Long presented the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Committee on Streets, in connection with the City Engineer and the Park Commission, be and they are hereby instructed to inquire and report on the expediency of the city opening or extending Robinson street from its present terminus to some street in the Fifth ward and connecting with the same.

Mr. Hall moved to amend by striking out the words "Park Commission and City Engineer."

The amendment was adopted and the resolution as amended passed.

Mr. Falkner presented a remonstrance from residents on Evans alley, against setting curb on said alley, for the reason that it is only a twenty foot alley. Referred to the Committee on Streets.

Mr. Riddle offered a resolution authorizing the employment of two pages, one for each branch of Councils, at a salary not to exceed $25 per annum. Adopted.

THE BOYD FARM.

Mr. Hall presented the report of the Committee of Conference appointed on the matter of the purchase of the Boyd Farm. The Committee recommended that the whole matter be laid on the table. Adopted.

SIDE WALK,

Mr. Phillips presented a resolution authorizing the Street Commissioners to have the side walk on Western avenue paved to its proper width. Adopted.

Mr. Hall presented a resolution instructing the Committee on City Property to have the City Hall repaired and the Council Chambers and Treasurer's office papered and painted. Adopted.

Common Council.

Council met at eight o'clock. Members present: Messrs. Comley, Grenet, Hanna, Hastings, Kopp, Megraw, McNeill, Ober, Price, Porter, Seidle, Tate, Thompson, Voegtley, Warner, and President Slack. The minutes of the preceding meeting were read and adopted.

PUBLIC DRINKING FOUNTAIN.

Mr. Hanna offered a resolution instructing the City Engineer to have erected a public drinking fountain on the First Ward Diamond Square, at a cost not to exceed $100. Adopted.

PETITIONS AND RESOLUTIONS.

Mr. Price, a resolution instructing the weighmaster of Diamond Scales, to employ persons to keep the square on which the scales are built clean and in proper order. Lost.

Mr. Tate, a remonstrance against the changing of the grade on Jefferson street, Second ward.

Referred to the Committee on Streets and Sewers.

Mr. Warner, a petition asking that the pavements on Market street be kept at their present width, twelve feet.

Referred to the Street Committee with power to act.

Also, a resolution requesting the Committee on Water to report to Councils the reason for the short supply of water pipe furnished the city by the contractors. Adopted.

Mr. Hastings, a resolution instructing the Committee on Water to have a four inch water pipe laid on Third alley, between Middle and East streets. Referred to Water Committee.

Also, resolution instructing the Street Committee to have a drop put in the sewer on the northwest corner of West and Third streets, to connect with the sewer on Third street. Referred to Committee on Streets.

ALONG THE RIVER.

Mr. Hastings presented the report of the Committee on Wharves and Landings, setting forth that in the matter of opening the channel of the Allegheny river, through to the Ohio river, the Committee reported adversely to expending any money for that purpose.

In the matter of extending the wharf to the Suspension Bridge on east side, the Committee find it will be necessary to extend the Federal street sewer to the river before further progress is made, and offer the following resolution in relation thereto:

Resolved, That the Street Committee be authorized and directed to have the Federal street sewer continued into the river a sufficient distance to enable the Committee on Wharves to extend the wharf to the Suspension Bridge.

In relation to the application of Messrs. Lindsey & McCutcheon for use of wharf in front of their property, the committee referred the matter to the Wharfmaster of the Western District with instructions to collect at the rate of one dollar per foot front of their property.

Report received and resolutions adopted.

THE "BOYD FARM."

In December last Councils passed the following resolution:

Resolved, That the Directors of the Poor, be and they are hereby authorized and requested to purchase the farm of Messrs. David and William Boyd, situated in Indiana.

By authority of this resolution it was contended that the Directors were empowered by this resolution to purchase the "Boyd Farm" for $62,000, the price put upon it.

Subsequently Common Council, at a meeting held August 12th passed the following:

Resolved, That the Directors of the Poor be requested to report to Councils all the facts connected with the purchase of the Boyd farm.

Select Council refused to concur in this resolution, on the ground that it would be a virtual admission that the farm had been bought, which many of the members did not admit. They accordingly referred the resolution to the Committee on Poor Farm.

No money has been paid on the farm, but the Messrs. Boyd contend that the city had made herself actually liable and they have not been making use of the ground. They now propose to bring suit to enforce the consummation of the sale.

Common Council last evening adhered to their action in passing the resolution, and asked for a Committee of Conference, appointing as their representatives Messrs. Tate, Comley and Thompson, and Messrs. Hall and Long on the part of Select Council. After a brief consultation, the Committee reported in S. C. favorable to laying the resolution on the table. So the case rests.

THE SEWER BONDS.

The ordinance relative to the issue of bonds for the payment of such sewers as are now under contract or may be constructed in the future was brought up from Select Branch.

Mr. McNeil moved to amend the first section by providing for the issue of bonds sufficient in amount to pay likewise for all the sewers which have been built so far.

A brief discussion ensued upon the amendment.

The yeas and nays were called on the passage of the amendment, resulting in yeas 7, nays 9.

So the amendment was lost.

The point at issue seemed to be that under the old law a number of parties had paid special tax for sewerage purposes, and under the new law were required to pay a general tax for sewers built in any part of the city. The amendment contemplated the providing of money sufficient to refund these parties for the amount which they had previously paid, they having been assessed twice. The new or amended law provided for this refunding at any time within ten years, but it was contended that it was unfair to keep the parties out of their money that length of time.

Mr. Warner then presented an amendment, pending which the hour of adjournment arrived and Councils adjourned under the rules.

That Market.

MESSRS. EDITORS: Can you tell me what the excitement about this proposed new Market House means? As a resident in the locality, I feel deeply interested in the matter. I, in common with a number of my neighbors, thought the report of the Market Committee would about settle it, at least so far as the site was concerned. Certainly it should do so if they have done what had been assigned them. They examined thoroughly every site obtainable and finally settled upon the Lyons' lot, according to their report. Councils would hardly ask further proof than that of the eligibility and adaptability of the location for the purpose. Then why need there be any further talk? The Committee has recommended it, the people for whose accommodation the market is being built endorse the recommendation, [I know that personally.] A market house must be built, and certainly there can be no difficulty about the price of this place. If there are any on that point a little inquiry in regard to the figures for real estate in the vicinity will be sufficient to dissipate them very soon. If, after the deliberation and caution which has marked the movement all along, Councils are not ready to take some action, that spirit of enterprise and decision which formerly marked the body must have departed. Councils should either adopt the report of the Committee or reject it, and procure a new site, if they can, which will be more suitable.

The people want a Market House, are willing to pay for it, and are desirous of being accommodated as soon as possible.

MARKET.

Personal.

Captain E. M. Shaw, Chief of the London Fire Brigade, visited this city yesterday and reviewed the Fire Department. He was met at the Union Depot by Chief Engineer John H. Hare and S. T. Paisley, Superintendent of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, who escorted him through a portion of the city and then to Sixth avenue, where the fire apparatus of the city asembled for review and inspection. Captain Shaw inspected the entire apparatus and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the beauty and utility of the different "machines." At his request the Duquesne engine was put in service and threw water for twenty minutes. It required three minutes to raise sufficient steam to blow the whistle, and in four minutes and a half after the fire was ignited the machine was throwing water.

After an examination of the Fire Alarm Telegraph, and numerous inquiries concerning its workings, our water supply, the location of the basin, and in fact everything connected with the Fire Department, he took his departure for Cincinnati on the ten o'clock train.

The 77th.

The old members of the 77th Regiment of Pennsylvania Volunteers propose to hold their first annual re-union, in Lafayette Hall, on the 9th of next month. This re-uniting of old comrades, who have bivouaced, laughed, marched and bled together, after years of separation, is one of the few very pleasant things made possible by the late war. What stories are told; what memories revived; what words of regret for those who are missing from among them! It is there more than any place else in these piping times of peace that the man remembers most vividly that he was once a soldier and fought in his country's defence. The programme of the re-union of the 77th embraces a business meeting in the morning, prayer, music, discussion of matters of interest, and an oration by Col. Fred. S. Pyfer, in the afternoon, and a hop and banquet in the evening. We hope the meeting will be a full and satisfactory one, and do not doubt but it will.

All Facilities for Selling.

Among our clothing dealers, T. Tobias stands prominent for enterprise, liberality and sound judgment. His establishment has been favored with an uncommonly large share of the public patronage and every day it is receiving more custom. The best and most satisfactory indication of this fact is now offered by Mr. Tobias in the extension, enlargement, and general improvement of his store. He has increased its capacity considerably and has laid in a complete stock of the finest new goods, both in the piece and ready made, which are certain to please purchasers to the fullest extent. Mr. Tobias, in his custom department, is prepared to fill all orders on short notice and on the most reasonable terms. He has secured the services of an experienced and clever cutter, whose work will be a credit to the establishment, a source of satisfaction to its patrons and of additional customers to Mr. Tobias. Mr. Tobias is determined to push things this season, and we expect to hear of him offering them very handsome and unusually desirable bargains. Don't forget big 13, St. Clair street.

THE TEACHER'S WORK.

The Fourth Day of the Institute—Model Lessons, Drawing, Music and Elocution.

The Institute reassembled at nine o'clock yesterday morning, and was opened with prayer.

After the reading and approval of the minutes Miss Grace King delivered a lecture on drawing. Miss King's lectures have been exceedingly interesting, and prior to her departure for Cleveland she received a unanimous vote of thanks from the Institute.

Prof. Jones, of Erie, delivered an interesting lecture on the pronunciation of words, after which the audience were entertained with some delightful music.

Mrs. Randall conducted a reading exercise, the teachers forming themselves into a class. The lady gave some excellent suggestions regarding the quality of voice, pitch, force, melody, gestures, etc., and the exercises throughout were very interesting.

AFTERNOON SESSION

Commenced with singing, after which Mr. J. P. Andrews delivered a lecture on Mental Arithmetic. He spoke of the opposition which this study had met with in the school room from those who did not understand it, and contended that its fundamental principles should be taught in the primary department. It would discipline the minds of the pupils and lead them to think. In teaching it no book should be brought to the class, and the teachers should depend more upon their own faculties than the book.

Mr. Burtt said Mental Arithmetic should be confined to such problems as have few conditions, otherwise it was better to have it written.

Mr. Harrison thought this study a gymnastic exercise to the mental faculties, and very advantageous for the practical results which accrued from its study.

Superintendent Luckey thought too much attention had been given to this study in Western Pennsylvania. It was only good as it assisted in explaining written arithmetic.

Mr. J. M. Pryor next delivered an interesting lecture on "Infinite Series," with blackboard illustrations.

Mrs. Randall read "The Charge of the Light Brigade," after which she conducted an exercise on "Methods of Variety" in reading, giving many practical hints on this important subject. She concluded by reading "The Bells" with fine effect.

The session was closed with an address on Geography by Mr. Jones, of Erie.

EVENING SESSION,

Assembled at half-past seven o'clock, and opened by the song, "Work, for the Night is Coming."

Rev. Mr. Evans, of Minersville, delivered an interesting lecture, entitled "Plumes."

On motion of Dr. Kerns, a vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Evans for his able lecture, and he was requested to furnish a copy for publication in the minutes of the Association.

The Allegheny Quartette Club sang "The Good Old Days of Yore," and led the audience in singing "Sweet By and By."

Mrs. Randall then delivered an address upon the subject of natural reading. Every great artist was a student of nature, and this should be remembered by the reader. There was more, or at least as much, in the tone of the voice as in what there was said. The same words repeated in one tone would attract a child, and in another would repulse it. The teacher should take advantage of this. In conclusion of her excellent lecture the lecturer said that the first requisite of the teacher of reading, which she would have faithfully cultivated, was common sense. She concluded by reading the "Burning Prairie," and after the Quartette had sung "Just Twenty Years Ago," read "Darius Green and his Flying Machine," and "No Sect in Heaven," which were enthusiastically applauded.

Mr. Burtt announced that Mrs. Randall would give an elocutionary entertainment this evening, and expressed the hope that there would be a large attendance.

The Quartette then sung "Sleep Gentle Lady, Sleep," and the Institute adjourned until nine o'clock this morning.

Boy Drowned.

Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock, Johnny Robinson, a lad aged about twelve years, in company with a number of playmates, was taking a bath in the Allegheny river, at the foot of Allegheny avenue, First ward, when forgetting himself he swam beyond his depth and was drowned. The body was recovered in a few moments afterwards and Dr. P. W. Herron sent for. The physician, however, could do nothing, as life was totally extinct before the body had been secured. It was then sent to the home of the lad's parents, Franklin street, near Bidwell, Sixth ward Allegheny, at which place an inquest will be held by Coroner Clawson to day.

United States Court—Judge McCandless.

A petition was presented in the bankruptcy branch of the United States District Court, yesterday, signed by Messrs. Knable & Picking, and several other firms in this city, asking that J. K. Smith, of Monongahela City, be declared a bankrupt. The petitioners set forth that the respondent was indebted to them for various amounts, and that being insolvent he confessed judgment in the Court of Common Pleas, of Washington county, in favor of A. M. Smith, with a view of giving him a preference over other creditors, and for the purpose of delaying the operations of the bankrupt law. An order to show cause was made returnable on the 15th of October.

Closed for Repairs.

The Continental Dining Rooms, that popular and extensively patronized establishment on Fifth avenue, one door west of the Postoffice, will be closed until the first of September, in order to enable Mr. Holtzheimer, the gentlemanly proprietor, to make some important changes in the establishment and refit and refurnish it. The bar, which is furnished with a greater variety and better quality of liquors than can be obtained elsewhere, will remain open as usual. The patrons of the Continental will hail the re-opening of the establishment with joy, as no other dining rooms in the city can supply the place of the Continental.
